COMPLETE PLAN IS GIVEN MEDIATORS

United States Government Presents Her Ideas

FOR PEACE IN MEXICO

Full Conference of All Delegates Will be Held Today or Tomorrow for Final Drafting of the Protocol—Insist on Armistice.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 8.—The United States government, through Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, today presented to the three South American mediators a complete plan for the pacification of Mexico. It is the same in principle as that presented by the mediators, and already agreed to by the Huerta government, and contemplates establishment at the earliest date practicable of a new provisional government in Mexico City, which would conduct general elections for a permanent government.

The plan written by the American delegates after consultation with Washington is brief and includes several counter propositions of which the Huerta delegates will be advised tomorrow.

From the mediators themselves it became known that the differences in the two plans are slight. A full conference of all delegates and mediators will be held tomorrow or Wednesday. This is for the formal consideration and final drafting of the protocol.

Although the question of whether the Antilla would be permitted to land her ammunition at Tampico was not finally disposed of today, the Mexican delegates let ibte known that while they hoped the cargo in some way would be returned to New York, they were not disposed to interrupt mediation, even if the ammunition finally got ashore. General Huerta's order rescinding the blockade infused a spirit of optimism, for the situation was threatening.

Tonight final word was awaited from the American government as to whether the Antilla would be permitted to land her arms. The Spanish ambassador at Washington is expected to receive from Secretary Bryan the reply to the note addressed originally by the Huerta government to the mediators, and referred to Washington by the American delegates here.

The Huerta delegates wrote the note before they knew a blockade had been ordered, but when General Huerta learned that his representatives were taking the matter up through diplomatic channels, he suspended the blockade.

Insist on Armistice.

It is understood that a diplomatic way of approaching internal questions would meet the approval of the Constitutionalists, but the mediators are insistent on an armistice. The Constitutionalists want to know what the peace plan comprehends before they agree to a suspension of hostilities. They claim that when a revolutionary army is once started in a comprehensive military campaign it cannot be

HUERTA'S ORDER ONLY TEMPORARY

Evidently Made at Suggestion of Mediators.

WASHINGTON RETICENT

Department Heads in Washington Refuse to Express Themselves Upon Matter—Bryan and Wilson Much Relieved.

Washington, June 8.—General Huerta's order today, suspending the order to blockade Tampico against the delivery of ammunition by the steamer Antilla to the Constitutionalists, served to dispel apprehension over a new crisis between the United States and the Huerta government which had threatened mediation of Mexican affairs.

Though Washington officials expressed satisfaction over Huerta's action, it was persistently suggested unofficially that the blockade had been suspended only conditionally as a result of conferences between the South American mediators and the Mexican and American delegates at Niagara Falls. It also was said the Antilla might be diverted in her course through an agreement with officials of the Ward Line, her owners, and an American corporation.

President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Secretary Daniels gave evidence of great relief over the late developments which, temporarily at least, have averted another clash at arms.

From no official source was there confirmation of the reports that Huerta had no understanding with the mediators or the United States which would assure him that the Antilla's cargo would not be delivered. Meanwhile, nothing has been heard from the Antilla, which is due to arrive off Tampico Wednesday morning.

Informed of Suspension.

Secretary Bryan was first informed of Huerta's suspension of the blockade order by Mr. Riano, the Spanish ambassador, early in the day. The Secretary declined to discuss reports from Niagara Falls that Gen. Huerta merely had suspended his blockade order at the request of the South American mediators, pending settlement of questions relating to an armistice.

One important question said to have been raised at Niagara Falls was whether the United State construed the mediation agreement to obligate it to prevent arms entering Tampico which the Huerta government had declared closed. If the United States did not so construe the cessation of hostilities, which it was assumed would be held inviolate, the mediators are said to have wanted to know whether this government would consider it a breach of faith should Huerta's gunboats attempt to stop the Antilla's cargo of ammunition for Carranza's forces.

Such questions, it is declared, were put up to Secretary Bryan from Niagara Falls and Huerta was asked to suspend the blockade order until the question had been cleared up. It could not be learned whether any re-

SENATE SPENT DAY IN TOLLS DEBATE

All Efforts to Reach a Vote Frustrated

WILL CONTINUE TODAY

Senator Simmons Presents the Simmons-Norris Amendment Which Is Sharply Criticised by Sutherland—Substitute.

Washington, June 8.—Debate in opposition to the Panama Canal tolls exemption repeal occupied all of today in the Senate and frustrated efforts to reach a vote on the repeal bill. Senators Poindexter, Martin and Smith, of Michigan, spoke during the day and Senator Smith will continue tomorrow.

Lines were drawn for the final disposition of the measure, however, and parliamentary preliminaries were completed. Senator Simmons presented to the Senate as a substitute for the committee amendment to the repeal bill, the compromise amendment agreed upon by himself and Senator Norris, of Nebraska. This amendment declares that the passage of the bill shall not be construed as a relinquishment of "any right the United States may have under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, or otherwise."

Senator Sutherland criticised the Norris-Simmons amendment and proposed the following:

"Provided that nothing herein shall be considered as denying or abridging the right of the United States to discriminate in favor of the ships of commerce of its citizens in respect of the conditions or charges of traffic which may be imposed for the use of the Panama Canal, but on the contrary such right is hereby reasserted."

Expect Vote Today.

Administration leaders declared tonight that they expect to reach a vote on the Norris-Simmons amendment by tomorrow afternoon. Senator Poindexter told the Senate that Great Britain was absolutely without ground on which to base a claim to consideration in the control of the canal. He asserted that the treaties between the United States and Great Britain referred to the proposed Nicaraguan route and did not affect the Panama route.

Free tolls from both coastwise and ocean-going American ships were urged by Senator Martine, of New Jersey. He said:

"However honest the President may be, he may err and I believe that in this instance he has committed a most grievous error."

The Democratic administration was taken severely to task for its foreign policy by Senator Smith, who declared the President has not the far-sightedness of his predecessors.

"I wish I could give my full impression as to what drove the President to that desperate position," he said, referring to the demand for repeal of tolls exemption. "I think he was moved to this measure by a sudden situation in Mexico and as a result of a visit of officers of a Japanese battleship to Huerta at Mexico."

WITH VILLA'S REBELS AT SALTILLO; PREPARING TO PUSH AFTER FEDERALS

With Saltillo as his new base of warfare General Villa, who took the city after the evacuation of the Federal troops, is planning to push on to San Luis Potosi, where General Maas is reported to have an army of 20,000. These pictures were taken at Saltillo. One of them shows rebels tearing up the railroad near the city, and the other shows a group of rebels on guard on the outskirts of the city.

ONLY ONE MASTER FOR RAILROADS

Power of the Interstate Commerce Commission Upheld

BY THE SUPREME COURT

Federal Body Has Right to Interfere With State Rates When They Conflict With Inter-State Commerce.

Washington, June 8.—A long step toward placing railroads under "one master instead of many" was taken today by the United States Supreme Court in upholding the power of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to strike down State rates that discriminate against inter-State commerce. In substance, the court said that the Minnesota and other recent State rate cases in which the railroads lost might have been decided otherwise had the roads gone to the commission for relief instead of the courts.

The decision was announced by Justice Hughes, Justices Pitney and Lurton dissenting. The case arose out of complaints by Shreveport, La., merchants that the Texas railroad commission had shut them out of all Texas business by compelling the railroads to reduce Texas State rates far below what the Inter-State Commerce Commission allowed the railroad running from Shreveport to Texas cities to charge.

The court first decided that Congress had power to control inter-State charges over an inter-State carrier to the extent necessary to prevent injurious discriminations against inter-State traffic, and then held that Congress had conferred this power upon the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

Part of the Decision.

The fact that carriers are instruments of intra-State commerce as well as inter-State commerce," said Justice Hughes, "does not derogate from the complete and paramount authority of Congress over the latter or preclude the Federal power from being exerted to prevent the intra-State operations of such carriers from being made a means of injury to that which has been confided to Federal care.

"Wherever the inter-State and intra-State transactions of carriers are so related that the government of one involves the control of the other, it is Congress and not the State that is entitled to prescribe the final and dominant rule for otherwise Congress would be denied the exercise of its constitutional authority and the State not the nation would be supreme within the National field."

In removing discriminations against inter-State commerce, the court held Congress was not bound to reduce the inter-State rates below what it may deem to be a proper standard to the carrier and the public.

Justice Hughes, who wrote the court decision in the rate cases of a year ago, pointed out that the present case did not conflict with those cases. He said that in the absence of a finding by the commission of unjust discrimination intra-State rates undoubtedly were left to be fixed by the carrier and subject to the authority of the States.

"We are not unmindful of the gravity fo the question that is presented when State and Federal views conflict," the opinion concluded, "but it was recognized at the beginning the Nation could not prosper if inter-State and foreign trade were governed by many masters, and where the interests of the freedom of inter-State commerce are involved, the judgment of Congress and of the agencies it lawfully establishes must control."

Members of the Inter-State Commerce Commission regarded this case as one of the most important in which the body ever has been involved. Its decision was written by Secretary Lane before he left the commission to become a member of the President's Cabinet.

THOUSANDS OF MASONS GATHER IN RICHMOND

Veiled Prophets of Enchanted Realm Meet.

Grottoes From All Over the United States Arrive in Virginia City by Rail and Water—Lavish Decorations.

Richmond, Va., June 8.—With more than 2,000 visitors already here and many more expected before the formal opening tomorrow morning, Richmond is entertaining the Supreme Council, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm. All day long Grottoes have been arriving by special train and steamer and the streets are filled to overflowing with delegations of Masons from many States.

The city has been lavishly decorated and the beturbanned hosts have added rich variety to the riot of color on the streets. Tonight Mayor George Ainslie delivered the address of welcome to the prophets at a reception and bal. On the stroke of midnight Kallipolis Grotto No. 15, of Washington, will lay a wreath on the Washington monument in Capitol Square. This Grotto, following the close of the Supreme Council will be the host of many other Grottoes in Washington, where a call on President Wilson will be one of the faatures. The President, it is announced, has promised to receive the visiting Masons and shake each one by the hand.

The Supreme Council will convene at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, the business session to be followed by a great barbecue. The feature of the convention comes in the evening with a Mardi Gras parade, including a score of visiting bands. Grand Monarch Hiram D. Rogers, of Boston, is expected to arrive tonight. Practically all other grand officers are already here.

Grottoes from Buffalo, St. Louis, Toledo, Syracuse and Pittsburg are making spirited campaigns for the 1915 meeting.

"LET THEM DIE" NOW SLOGAN IN ENGLAND

Public Profoundly Resentful of Suffragists' Action

American Woman Arrested in Church Disturbance Sunday Chooses a Jail Sentence to Being Bailed Out When Arraigned.

London, June 8.—Mrs. Mary Fausten, the American woman arrested with several others after a disturbance at the Brompton Oratory yesterday, when arraigned at Westminster police court, unhesitatingly chose the jail sentence to giving bond and announced her intention of beginning a "hunger strike." Her husband who was present acquiesced in his wife's decision.

The Faustens have resided in Berlin and London for the past 14 years. Mrs. Fausten is from Philadelphia.

The drugs conveyed into Holloway jail to Grace Roe were to be used as an antidote, declared Miss Barbara Wylie at the meeting today of the Women's Social and Political Union. She referred to thre summons issued at the instance of the public prosecutor against Arthur Barnett, an employe of the Woman's Social and Political Union, accused of providing the imprisoned suffragists with drugs to make them violent after they had been forcibly fed so that they might be discharged from prison under the "cat and mouse act."

Miss Wylie said that the authorities deliberately poisoned the women's food with drugs with the object of turning them into physical and mental wrecks.

"Let them die" is becoming a rather popular slogan in connection with the hunger striking suffragists since the public has become so profoundly resentful of the militants' actions. It was reported today that the government had decided to introduce legislation to indemnify the prison authorities against the consequences of al-

MISSOURI ANTI-TRUST LAWS STAND THE TEST

The Supreme Court Declares Them Constitutional

And at the Same Time Annuls Those of Kentucky Because They Exclude Tobacco Pools from Their Operation.

Washington, June 8.—Missouri anti-trust laws attacked as unconstitutional because they exempt labor combinations, were upheld today by the Supreme Court. At the same time the Kentucky anti-trust statutes were annulled because of the endeavor of the commonwealth to exempt tobacco pools from their operation.

As a result of the decision the judgment of the Missouri Supreme Court ousting from the State and fining the International Harvester Company of America $25,000 for being a member of a "trust" was affirmed while the action of various Kentucky counties for penalties against the same company for being a member of a "trust" was reversed.

The decision does not affect the action of the Federal government against the International Harvester Company, under the Sherman anti-trust law. The language of Justice McKenna, in delivering the Missouri opinion in regard to trusts with "good intentions," was regarded in some quarters as a warning to organizations self-styled as "good trusts," but on the other hand lawyers representing corporate interests welcomed the Kentucky opinion by Justice Holmes as showing the law had no favorites.

Justice McKenna said that it was too late to assert that a State could not prohibit combinations induced by good intentions and which had had some good effect. This was his answer to the argument by the Harvester Company that it had reduced the prices of machinery to farmers.

The Justice considered at length the contention that a State could not classify restraint so as to apply to those who sell articles and not to those who are engaged in labor pursuits or purchase articles.

EARLY ACTION ON BILL IS BLOCKED

New Complication In Anti-Trust Legislation.

MEANS SEVERAL WEEKS

Senate Judiciary Committee Decides to Take Up Clayton Anti-Trust Measure—Then Adjourns Until Next Week.

Washington, June 8.—A new complication in the way of early action on anti-trust legislation in the Senate appeared today when the Judiciary committee decided to take up the Clayton anti-trust bill for consideration. The committee has not considered many subjects dealt with in this bill, such as interlocking directorates and holding companies, and with a wide divergence of opinion as to the manner in which their prohibition should be attempted, several weeks probably will pass before a report can be made to the Senate.

The committee adjourned to meet again in a week, when it is expected to decide the question of public hearings on the bill.

The Clayton bill, as it passed the House, contains the provision specifically exempting labor and other organizations from anti-trust laws, and this probably will lead to lengthy discussion in committee. Senator Kern, leader of the majority, said today that the Senate would legislate on this line in some form.

Two Committees in Action.

While the judiciary committee is considering the Clayton bill, the inter-State commerce committee also will continue its analysis of many of the subjects covered in that measure. Chairman Newlands announced that the decision of the judiciary committee would not influence his committee and that he intended to go ahead as if another committee had not entered the anti-trust legislation field.

Mr. Newlands this week intends to lay before the Senate the Federal trade commission bill, approved by his committee and virtually identical with the measure passed by the House.

There were more evidences today of opposition in the commerce committee to the trade commission bill. Senator Lippitt, who opposed the motion to report it last week, issued a statement vigorously criticising its provisions. He said the bill "is not designed to aid business in any way, and has no constructive powers at all," that "to discover the one guilty person, it puts the 999 innocent ones under an intolerable suspicion and unjustifiable trouble and expense," and that it would "cost the 150,000 business concerns it affects $20,000,000 annually to respond to its demands."

DEFENSE BY RAPP SUDDENLY CEASES

Only Four Witnesses Heard in Divorce Suit.

READY FOR ARGUMENT

Charge of Statutory Offense Against Madame Schumann-Heink in a Cross Bill Draws a Large Crowd to Court Room.

Chicago, June 8.—William Rapp's defense against the divorce suit of his wife, Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, ceased suddenly late today with the testimony of only four witnesses and the case was given to the attorneys for argument. Owing to the fact that Rapp filed a cross bill charging his wife with a statutory offense a large crowd packed the hot court room, eager for testimony bearing on the counter allegation. They were disappointed.

Bryan Humphries, the famous contralto's chauffeur for six weeks last winter, and Miss Helen Sattler, her traveling companion since 1910, were the chief witnesses.

Humphries told of seeing George Baldwin, of Appleton, Wis., at his employer's home in Chicago at intervals. Miss Sattler said she had known Baldwin two years and had seen him last at Christmas time 1913. She also said a policeman with a fine voice visited the madame at her home in Caldwell, N. J., for singing lessons.

"He had a wonderful voice, but all the techinque he had he got from dropping nickles in phonographs," the witness said.

Miss Sattler said that in Chicago her employer always slept on the second floor in a room next to her daughter, she said.

When Madame Schumann-Heink rented a cottage at Culver, Ind., on the occasion of her son's graduation from a school there, it was so thot his friends might be received and entertained. Baldwin spent one night there and slept in a room under hers, the witness testified.

The forenoon session was consumed chiefly by the reading of Rapp's impassioned letters to Mrs. Catherine Dean, of New York, named by the singer as co-respondent.

Madame Schumann-Heink was called to the stand but was asked only one question.

"What was the date of your marriage to Paul Schumann?" asked the attorney.

An objection by counsel for the singer was sustained.

WASHINGTON ALIVE WITH SPECULATION

As to Who Will Be Named on Reserve Board

THREE ARE CERTAIN

President Wilson Will Send Nominations to Senate in a Day or Two is Report Coming from the White House.

Washington, June 8.—Following the President's announcement that the nominations of the entire membership of the Federal Reserve Board would be sent to the Senate within "the next day or two" speculation was rife tonight in official circles over the identity of the men who will be named to complete that body.

The Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency are to be ex-officio members of the board, and three others chosen for membership have been known unofficially for several weeks—Paul M. Warburg, of New York; Adolph C. Miller, of San Francisco, and W. P. G. Harding, of Birmingham, Ala. The two vacancies to be filled were created by the declination of Richard Olney, of Boston, and Harry A. Wheeler, of Chicago, to serve.

It was said definitely tonight by officials close to the President that he had not finally decided on the men to be appointed.

Long conferences between the President and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and McAdoo and First Assistant Secretary Charles S. Hamlin gave rise to predictions that Mr. Hamlin is to be a member of the board.

George E. Roberts, director of the mint, still is mentioned as a probable selection from the Middle West. However, the opinion seems widespread in administration circles that the President will not name two men now in the Treasury and E. C. Simmons, of St. Louis still is regarded as the favorite candidate in the Middle West.

There is a movement on the part of Chicago banks to have a man from that city given a place on the board.

ROMANCE BEGAN IN ITALY.

Consummated in Marriage at Bowden Saturday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., June 8.—A climax to a romance that began in sunny Italy several years ago was reached at Bowden on Saturday when Mr. John DeLuca and Miss Rosa Latressita were married. The ceremony was performed by a Catholic priest in the presence of a large gathering of their countrymen. After the ceremony the event was celebrated in the style customary to their fatherland.

STEAMER LUCKENBACK IS GIVEN UP FOR LOST.

Naval Vessels Discontinue Search for Freighter Off Carolina Coast.

Norfolk, Va., June 8.—It was announced at the Norfolk navy yard that the search for the steamer F. J. Luckenbach, which has not been heard from since May 15th, had practically been abandoned. The cruisers Birmingham and Dixie and six torpedo boat destroyers which were intercepted by wireless on their way up the coast from Mexico and ordered to search for the steamer have proceeded to their home stations.

The ships ofund no trace of the missing vessel. A report that the Luckenbach was ashore on a reef on the Florida coast was investigated and found to be without foundation.

Nothing had been heard here from two revenue cutters which were reported to have joined in the search for the missing steamer. The Luckenbach left Tampa for Baltimore on May 13th, with a cargo of phosphate rock. She carried a crew of 29 men.

FAVORABLY REPORT BILL.

To Improve Cape Channel on East Side of Pamlico Sound.

Washington, June 8.—The War Department today favorably reported to the House an appropriation of $17,900 for improving the Cape Channel on the east side of Pamlico Sound by dredging what is known as the Buxton Channel to six feet depth and 150 feet width. The purpose is to help navigation into a basin nine miles long and from one to three miles wide on the inner side of Barrier Beach abreast of the towns of Buxton, Trent and Hatteras. The recommendation was referred to the Rivers and Harbors committee.

Negro Arrested for Larceny.

George Hollad, colored, was arrested yesterday morning at Wrightsville Beach by Constable Davis and Special Officer H. Mack Godwin on a charge of larceny. He was unable to give bond and went to jail. He will probably be tried before Justice Harriss today. It is alleged that Holland entered the home of Mr. R. H. Northrop at the beach and stole a lot of linen, sweaters and household articles. It is said that he had a key to the front door and that he had entered the house a number of times for the purpose of getting these articles.

PRESENTS BREEDING BUREAU WITH HANDSOME STALLION

C. K. G. Billings Makes Donation to U. S. Breeding Association.

New York, June 8.—C. K. G. Billings, owner of many famous horses, has presented Wilmering, one of the handsomest trotting stallions in the country to the United States Breeding Bureau for the improvement of the breed of cavalry horses.

Wilmering is now eight years old and made his race record four years ago at Dallas, Texas, a mile to 2:12 1-3. For beauty, size, style and blood lines, he has attracted wide attention and praise in European exhibitions.

Wilson, N. C., June 7.—Mr. T. M. Washington reports the loss of a tenant house on his farm. The fire which destroyed the house also burned the household effects of Dave Byrd, living on the farm. The total loss will exceed $1,000.

JESUS THE TRUE MESSIAH.

Provn by Prophecy of Seventy Weeks, Says Mr. Haynes.

"That Jesus of Nazareth was the true Messiah is absolutely proven by the prophecy of the seventy weeks of the ninth chapter of Daniel," said Carlyle B. Haynes, the evangelist and lecturer, last night at the tent at Eleventh and Market streets, before a large congregation in his address on Jesus Proven the True Messiah, which was a continuation of the study of the preceding evening. Mr. Haynes dwelt at length on the harmony of the chronological periods of the Bible as a proof of the divinity of Christ, and in part said:

"In closing last night's study we came to the prophecy which foretold how long the false system of counterfeit Christianity would be permitted to deceive the people of the earth. The prophecy declares that 'unto two thousand three hundred days, then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.' That is, at the end of this long period of twenty-three hundred days, the truth of God in its fullness would appear to men as contrasted with the counterfeit system, and everything which had been falsified would be taught to men again in a great message which would come at the close of the 2,300 years of this time prophecy."

Instructions in New Dances.

Miss Chandler and Mr. West, the demonstrators at Lumina, announce that they are now prepared to give instructions in the new dances to any who may wish to take lessons. Lessons will be given at Lumina, or these instructors will go to the cottages or hotels on the beach to give instructions. They will also arrange to give lessons in Wilmington. Miss Chandler and Mr. West are accomplished dancers having studied in the best schools in the country. Arrangements for securing the services of these instructors can be made with Mr. Don Richardson, the conductor of the orchestra at Lumina.

EXIT AND ENTRANCE IN WAR GAME PLAYED BY MEXICAN REBELS AND FEDERALS AT MONTEREY

1-REBELS ENTERING MONTEREY—2-FEDERALS ESCAPING ON HAND CAR
PHOTOS © 1914 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Mexican revolution, as you know, is a great game of hide and seek, of exits and entrances, with General Villa "It". One of these pictures shows the rebels triumphantly entering Monterey, near Saltillo, after the Federals were driven out. The Federals later evacuated Saltillo, and Villa occupied that city as a base of supplies for his farther march southward. The other picture shows how some of the Federals made their escape from Monterey when the place became too hot for them. Traveling on such "palace" cars proved slow, but effective.

PREPARATION IN PROGRESS.

We are preparing for our 16th annual Mill-end Sale. Our buyer returned last week from the North where he went in pursuit of bargains specially for this event. He purchased thousands of dollars' worth of seasonable, fresh, clean, crisp merchandise at away below its value. This week's Clyde steamship brought to us about one hundred dases of New Goods, bought for this sale. This means they must be sold quikly and that spells low prices. The sale starts Monday, June 15, and we expect to make this the greatest event in our history.

STATE SHOULD HAVE LOWER RATES ON COAL

Corporation Commission Before Special Examiner

Representative of Inter-State Commerce Commission Gives Special Hearing at Charlotte—State Medical Society.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 8.—Members of the Corporation Commission went today to Charlotte for the purpose of appearing before the special examiner for the Inter-State Commerce Commission, Hon. Richard T. Eddy, in a hearing in Charlotte this week on the proposed general reduction of freight rates on coal into the whole southeastern territory, including North Carolina.

The North Carolina commission has prepared and will present at this hearing a comprehensive statement of the inter-State coal rate conditions in this State with a view to showing that this State is entitled to material reductions to nearly all points.

The indications are that the hearing at Charlotte will last several days and the manufacturing interests, especially the cotton milling interests, will be especially represented as being the largest users of the classes of coal involved in the investigation.

Chairman Travis and Commissioner Fell, accompanied by Rate Expert W. G. Womble and Clerk J. S. Griffin, went direct to Charlotte and Commissioner Lee went via Mount Gilead, on the Norfolk Southern, to give a special hearing today on the contest that is on there as to the location of the Norfolk Southern passenger station. He will submit his findings as to this matter to the other members of the commission for an order to be made later designating a site and ending a contest among citizens and the railroad company that has very much stirred local factions.

Medical "Exams" Today.

There will begin in this city tomorrow the examination of applicants for license to practice medicine in this State, the examinations to be conducted by the State Board of Medical Examiners.

This is a preliminary to the assembling of the North Carolina Medical Society here on Tuesday of next week in annual convention with Dr. J. M. Parrott as president. The convention will be in session for three days and more than 300 physicians and special visitors are expected to constitute the convention. The Wake County Medical Society has planned a round of special features of entertainment while the doctors are here.

Takes Convicts to Atlanta.

United States Marshal W. T. Dortch has gone to Atlanta to deliver to the Federal prison there 13 prisoners who were given terms during the week of Federal court for criminal cases the past week. Most of the prisoners were blockaders and retailers and Johnston county has the largest number. Probably the most notable prisoner was David Allen Lee, of Johnston, who serves five years for changing a two dollar bill to a twenty dollar bill and for "white capping" by shooting up the home of a neighbor whom he suspected of reporting him as a blockader to the revenue officers.

Seeking Slayer of Negro.

The police of Raleigh are still looking in vain for Pilgrim Jones, the negro who shot to death Thomas Clegg, colored, in the latter's home on Tucker street Saturday afternoon. Clegg was shot four times without warning. He died soon afterwards in St. Augustine hospital.

A HEAVENLY WANDERER.

A Brilliant Meteor Seen From Greenville.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greenville, N. C., June 8.—A brilliant meteor seen here Wednesday evening, was a splendid sight. Daylight had near faded into darkness. It was late twilight, brightened by the rays of a crescent moon in a hazy sky. No winds blew. It was a hushed quiet, a stillness of near night. A twinkling star now and then added its light to the scene. And then the meteor came. It was a flash of fire—a stream of fire—an annihilation—it was over.

Near and beneath the Pole star, a sudden flash heralded the presence of the heavenly wanderer, apparently earthbound. Its course was westward, describing an arc. A ball of fire, it left a brilliant streamer in its wake. As it sped on it lost its streamer. Then elongated and globular, with a blaze on its north and west, it continued its flight. It was nearing the evening star, which it so much exceeded in brilliancy and size, when there was a flash as of explosion—a thousand fragments went hurling into space, and darkness covered its place. It was no more.

Its birth was a brilliant flash, its trail, its wake was a stream of fire, its en was a grand pyrotechnic finale.

RECOVERING FROM ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Grady and Dr. Person, the Worst Injured at Contentnea.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., June 8.—When the Atlantic Coast Line passenger train was wrecked near Contentnea several weeks ago Mrs. J. C. Grady, of Kenly, and Dr. Tom Person, of Wilson, were the most seriously injured. Dr. Person is slowly improving although he is still unable to walk. Mrs. Grady has been taken home but does not seem to recover from the nervous shock and in addition the injury at the back of her head is giving her considerable trouble. Physicians have determined to take Mrs. Grady to Richmond in the hope of permanent improvement.

DR. VENABLE IN WASHINGTON

Ex-President of the University Will Accept Chair of Chemistry—Thomas' Expenses $1,235.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 8.—Dr. F. P. Venable, former President of the University of North Carolina, is here spending a few days with Dr. Holmes, director of the bureau of mines. It is understood from one who has the confidence of Dr. Venable that he has decided to accept the chair of chemistry which has been tentatively tendered him.

The President nominated Henry G. Cooper, Jr., of Oxford, to be a second lieutenant in the Navy and Alfred Balsey, of Reidsville, to be a midshipman. Both were Naval Academy graduates. Young Cooper is now stationed in China.

Among the visitors today are the following: Miles Cowles, of Statesville; Mrs. George R. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hines and E. C. Gregory, of Salisbury, and Tom Gold, of High Point.

Thomas' Expense Account.

Representative Pou and Candidate Chas. R. Thomas filed their statements of expenses today. Mr. Pou adds $34 to his former statement and Thomas put on another $50 in addition to the $1,185.61, which was filed prior to the primary. P. R. A.

TRINITY COLLEGE NOTES.

Greater Trinity Club Prepares for Summer Work.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., June 7.—At the regular meeting of the Greater Trinity Club Friday night officers were elected and the plan of work for the coming year discussed and outlined. The Greater Trinity Club is an organization of Trinity students the purpose of which is to interest prospective students in Trinity College and get desirable men to come here. As Mr. Starnes, the retiring president, stated, the major part of the club's work is done during the summer vacation when a student secretary keeps in touch with all the old Trinity men and corresponds with prospective students.

The officers elected to have charge of the work of the club for next year are: President, H. E. Meyers, Biscoe; vice president, F. B. Brown, Raleigh; recording secretary, G. S. Sexton, Austin, Texas. The selection of the corresponding secretary who will remain on the campus this summer and carry on the active work of the club was left with a committee to be appointed by the president.

After the election of officers considerable enthusiasm was manifested when speeches were made by President W. P. Few, Prof. R. L. Flowers and Prof. W. H. Wannamaker. These representatives of the faculty praised the work of the Greater Trinity Club, and encouraged the students to continue the work that has been so successfully carried on through the agency of the club for the past four years.

At the last regular meeting of the Athletic Council of Trinity College for this year several matters of importance were taken up, among them the election of a manager for the track and tennis teams next year and the election of an assistant manager of the baseball team. F. B. Brown, of Raleigh, was elected manager of the track team; J. W. Wallace, of Statesville, was made manager of the tennis team for next year, and Clay Ring, assistant manager of the baseball team.

COLORED TEACHERS TO MEET.

Thirty-fourth Annual Association at Raleigh, June 10 to 14.

To the Negro Teachers of North Carolina:

The North Carolina State Teachers' association will hold its 34th annual association at Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C., June 10 to 14, 1914. This association is one o the oldest of its kind conducted by colored people in the country. It invites the hearty co-operation of all the friends of education, especially the teachers engaged in negro schools.

We need the hel pand combined influence of the teachers of the State. We hop eto combine our influence and wisdom so that we may be better prepared to improve the conditions of the schools and to serve our people and our country. We stand anxious and willing to help all the teachers we can. We also gladly invoke the assistance of every teacher in North Carolina to the end that this association may be a strong, live factor in the advancement of education among the colored people in North Carolina and in helping to improve the citizenship of the State.

With examples all around us emphasizing the necessity of organized efforts with business men, laboring men professional men enjoyin gbenefits by organization which could not be secured by individual activity, it must be plain to every teacher that we can do more for ourselves, for our profession by strong, well supported and well directed organization among our teachers.

We beg each teacher who shall read this notice to ask himself if he is doing his part to his profession, and if not, why not hel pus?

If we can secure the hearty do-operation of all teachers who will be able to atend our meetings and help us with their advice and influence, the conditions of our teachers will be made better and our schools will surely feel the stimulus of a strong and virile organization. We need your help. Will you not attend our meetings and help us?

On behalf of the North Carolina Teachers' association, I am,

Very truly yours,
JAS. B. DUDLEY,
President.

THEATRICAL

Five big films at the Grand, the people's favorite amusement palace, and all for 5 cents. This will be the great, tempting menu and the tiny price set before the folks of Wilmington today by this superb, up-to-the-second theatre, which, in addition to daily swell entertainment, offers the coolest spot in the city, being electrically chilled and freely ventilated.

There will also be big stars in the big films at the Grand today. The noted romantic actor, Marie MacDermott, supported by charming, clever Mary Fuller, will appear in Edison's greatest screen triumph, "A Princess of the Desert." It is, of course, a story of the desert, with all its intensity and spectacularism, and it is filled with thrills.

Another big dramatic will be Kalem's latest, "The Fight on Deadwood Trail," and in the cast of this will appear such notables as the famous Indian actress, Princess Mona Darkfeather, Rex Downs, Carlos Bartlett and Anna Desisle. It is an Indian story that is new, startling and superb.

Then there is a Broncho Billy film. It is "Broncho Billy and the Rattler," and, of course, the popular actor, Mr. G. M. Anderson, will be seen in the title role.

There will also be an abundance of comedy. Lubin's "Guaranteed Rain-proof" is a comical tale of a fellow who buys a suit of clothes and it rains. The result is a great laugh. The other swell clown picture is "A Strenuous Ride", in which Sam Johnson is pulled along by his bull terrier, that tries to capture a big coon.

At the Bijou Today.

Today Miss Norma Phillips, "Our Mutual Girl," entertains Bijou patrons with the 12th chapter of her interesting and exciting adventures in the city of New York. In this number Miss Phillips visits some of the biggest sights in New York, and they will all be seen by Bijou goers today. She drives down Riverside Drive, sees Grant's tomb, The Tombs, the Bridge of Sighs, and famous old Trinity church. From there she visits the Imperator, the world's biggest steamship, and this mammoth floating palace is shown to the audience. She also meets Commander Evans, the hero of the ill-fated Scott South Polar expedition. Many other interesting incidents are shown in this number.

A big Joker comedy, "Pays the Rent" is next on today's bill, and is acted by such stars as Ernest Shields, Louise Granville, Eddie Boland and Lionel Bradshaw. It's a scream from beginning to end, and the innocent victim finds his rent receipt only after he had slept one night in the street, it having been hidden in his hat on his head all the while. A rousing number, this.

"His Daughter," a mammoth Victor drama, will be next, and will be one that will hold the attention throughout, and will be found one of the prettiest stories read or seen in some time. It's an interesting story, and is acted by some of the biggest stars of the Victor company.

A mammoth Keystone comedy ends today's programme, and will be found one of the biggest of these screamingly ludicrous numbers yet.

Get full value for your money

Be sure you get a full-weight package of pure, honest coffee, so roasted and packed as to preserve the quality.

That is precisely what you get in Arbuckles' Coffee. The Arbuckle packages are full 16 ounces to the pound, pure coffee.

People used to think — perhaps some do still — that it was economical to drink chicory in their coffee. Chicory costs 10c a pound. Analysis shows that it contains no food element except sugar, which you can buy for 6c a pound. Of course you do not want to pay 25c or 30c a pound for chicory. Use Arbuckles' Coffee and you get pure coffee.

AFTER SUFFERING TWO LONG YEARS

Mrs. Aselin Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"After my little one was born I was sick with pains in my sides which the doctors said were caused by inflammation. I suffered a great deal every month and grew very thin. I was under the doctor's care for two long years without any benefit. Finally after repeated suggestions to try it we got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the third bottle of the Compound I was able to do my housework and today I am strong and healthy again. I will answer letters if anyone wishes to know about my case."—Mrs. JOSEPH ASELIN, 628 Monroe St., N. E., Minneapolis, Minn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for woman's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday at $6 per year; $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to the readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed, to THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

TUESDAY, JUNE 9, 1914.

The way of the mediators is hard.

Mossbackery does more harm to itself than anybody else could possibly do to it.

One faction in Mexico hates us, and the other faction isn't stuck on Gringoes so's anybody would notice it.

If everybody who gets disgusted with politics should happen to quit voting the minority could easily control the government.

Huerta should not hate everybody in the United States. As a general thing over here, the Republicans would vote for him to remain in office as long as he wants to be dictator.

Our marines have not been in Vera Cruz but a couple of months, but they have made June brides of a number of the prettiest senoritas they could find. Of course, the Mexican girls are willing.

The Nashville Tennessean notes that "a scientist has found that a pipe full of tobacco will kill a gold fish." It is not necessary, however, for a gold fish to be allowed that much tobacco at one time.

Many men who are satisfied that they could have settled the Mexican question in sixty days, haven't settled their last month's board bill and the consequence is that their landlady would prefer to trust President Wilson.

The Republican vote for Penrose in the senatorial primary in Pennsylvania grows larger and larger, and it appears that it will soon be in order to take out a search warrant for anybody who wishes to be called a Progressive.

Some New York Progressives have figured it out that in the fall's election, the Progressive party will not poll as many votes as it did in 1912. Of course, they are a set of lying prophets whose very utterances smell of treason.

Councilman Loughlin's suggestion of a survey by the bureau of municipal research for the local government is a good one. It would cost something at first, but in the end it might be worth thousands of dollars to the city.

Villa wires in a lot of insolent messages to Huerta every day and it is said the old Indian tells the telegraph boys to bring the messages right along. "Wait for me, pig," was in one of Villa's wire messages a few days ago. Huerta makes no answer, but he is waiting all right.

Huerta says he must preserve his dignity, but we can't se how he can do that and go right on indulging in all the hilarity that he can get in the City of Mexico. We never could see how a fellow could stand on his dignity while he is running from one joint to another to wet his whistle.

The Hon. Gifford Pinchot, the Bull Moose candidate for the Senate in Pennsylvania, pulled off a great stunt in Lancaster county one day last week. He took in 35 villages, shook hands with 1,500 voters, and acted just as if he believed they thought he was cutting a great deal of ice. The probability is that the voters will give him the shake later on.

In spite of the stringency of the times, the good roads movement goes steadily forward in North Carolina. Sunday's paper told of the enterprise of Northwest township, in Brunswick county, and The Star's Southport correspondence during the past several weeks has told of good roads activity down in the lower section of the same county. It has also just been announced from Kinston that Greene county has successfully negotiated the sale of $100,000 township road bonds voted there recently. Nothing contributes more to the desirability of rural life than good roads and much of the future of the republic depends upon the improvement of rural life.

BUSINESS AND CALAMITY HOWLERS.

About the only campaign rally cry that the Republicans and Progressives have is that the business situation is depressing and that the Democratic tariff is ruining the country. Meanwhile, bank clearings have been running along very much as they did last year and in some instances they are even higher. Of course, some business is slow and there are failures all over the country, but so far as that is concerned there always were dull periods in business and there always were failures, even in the most prosperous periods in the history of the country, though politicians never attribute it to men who fail on account of themselves or to circumstances under which failures occur in spite of politics.

Calamity howlers have a great deal to say about the bad condition of the textile industry, and yet last week at the meeting of the Manufacturers' Club in Philadelphia, Mr. Lewis W. Parker, of South Carolina, spoke cheeringly of the present condition and future prospects of the cotton milling industry. Mr. Parker is at the head of 18 Southern cotton mills, and his word ought to be taken rather than that of partisan politicians who are howling for the political effect that it will have. Among other things Mr. Parker made this assertion:

"A period of profitable business is right at hand; foreign competition under the new tariff is not going to injure the textile industry, and the outlook for all business the country over is bright.

"Notwithstanding the fact that we have heard of depression, the market is upon a profitable basis. I am an optimist; the time has come when we can all be so.

"The textile industry is not threatened by foreign competition. I recognize the fact we are passing through a period of transition, but it will not be for long. We have a great field, of which the surface has hardly been scratched."

That speaks well for the manufacturing interests of the South, and, as a matter of fact, the manufacturers all over the country have about the same story to tell. Right in the midsummer business is dull, but it is the same old midsummer dullness that we have heard of one year after another. Summer dullness makes a great Republican argument, but the census always shows that the country has made progress during the worst years of its history.

FIVE HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR.

While English experts continue to discuss the practicability of H. Machelet's aerially suspended railway, another Englishman, J. Esson, a Birmingham manufacturer, announces that he has invented a train which will travel 500 miles an hour. Machelet claims that his aerially suspended train running on an overhead trolley, will safely travel 300 miles an hour. Both inventors claim safety for their inventions, but it would seem that if one could travel 500 miles an hour it would take his breath away. Besides that, the possibility of mishaps always will exist whether people ride on farm carts or a Pullman car.

The Esson invention is of the monorail type, but it has one of the features of the Machelet train, inasmuch as it will be made to fly, or operate by air, after attaining a certain speed. It is explained that it does not rely for leviation on magnetic propulsion, but operates on the principles of aviation. It will be a hybrid of a street car and an aeroplane with an overhead trolley and propellers. The model is driven by electricity. Inventor Esson claims that it can attain a speed of 500 miles an hour with ease and safety, and he expects soon to give a demonstration with a working model.

His train is connected with a wire cable at either extremity by rods terminating in flange wheels, these rods serving to convey the current to motors fore and aft. The inventor claims that his train is so designed that when it has attained a sufficient velocity it will lift itself from the velocity buffer springs and fly. That, he claims, will mean a huge saving in maintenance charges.

The Machelet and Esson inventions are taken seriously in London, and no one is prepared to doubt the possibility of getting through space at anywhere from 200 to 500 miles an hour. The day that people can travel at the rate of 500 miles an hour, one can eat breakfast in Wilmington, shop all morning in New York, and be at home for dinner. That's going some.

THE VOTER'S CATECHISM.

Who elects the members of the General Assembly and county officers? The people.

Who nominates them, or tenders their selection to the people for their votes? You can search us. The people don't.

Why don't they? Because they are not given the privilege.

Why not? Because a certain clique in this or that county prefers to make the nominations themselves.

Why so? Because they are running politics and do not want anything out of the people but their votes.

Do they trust the people? Oh, yes, when the elections are held, but not when the nominations are made.

Do the politicians ever stop to think that if the people are capable of electing the candidates, they are capable of nominating them? They don't care to think about that. They want to keep on making the nominations to suit themselves.

Are the people willing to let them do it? If they do they are queer people, but we are satisfied they stand for it because they haven't got anything else to stand for and are used to swallowing everything prepared for them to swallow.

Wouldn't the people prefer to nominate their own officers in a fair, honest, ballot primary? If they don't the people do not trust themselves any more than the politicians trust them.

What kind of people prefer that the politicians make all the nominations? Queer people.

Are there any sound arguments why the people should not make their own nominations in the only way that it can be done? Sure, Mike. They are all sound. They all sound like punk.

EXPRESS COMPANIES WILL COMPETE.

The express companies may not relish Uncle Sam as a competitor, but they are showing signs that they do not propose for him to carry all the small parcels by his parcel post system. The one advantage which the parcel post has over the express business is that it reaches rural communities and does a carrying business from city to country, from country to city, and from city to city.

The parcel post has practically demonstrated that producers and consumers can be brought together through means of the mails and that food products can be transported on an economical basis, so it is stated that the Adams Express Company proposes to do the same kind of business in the communities which it serves. That company has inaugurated a special rate and service to bring producers and consumers together, and even if Uncle Sam did set the pace, the express companies can follow and make money if he can make money.

While Uncle Sam competes with the express companies, and their general business has fallen off, they may yet pick it up by giving Uncle Sam a run for his money in a field which is open to competition.

LONG DELAY WAS USELESS.

President Wilson wanted prompt action on the administration's anti-trust bills, but the Democrats feared that it would be risky to rush things. However, when it came time to pass the bills, it was demonstrated that the Republicans and Progressives were either for the measures or were mildly opposed to them. At any rate, the vote on two of the measures was practically unanimous, while the opposition to the third bill was composed of less than 10 per cent of the membership of the House.

That causes the Philadelphia Record to observe that "if there were any considerable number of Republicans and Progressives in the House of Representatives who believed that the adminstration's anti-trust bills would become disturbers of business and breeders of litigation, these quondam prophets of evil showed a woeful lack of the courage of their convictions." It might also be added that, the President's backers had little cause for the temerity of their predilictions.

The Greensboro Record states that when Maj. Charles M. Stedman was re-nominated for a third term by the Fifth Congressional district, "instead of being a cut-and-dried affair, it was what the old preacher called 'spontaneous unanimity.'" That's the way it ought have been handed to the major, and the Fifth district honored itself when it so honored its distinguishd representative.

Huerta's peace envoys deny that he is trying to gain time, but in the meantime he has gained time whether he has been "trying" or not.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"The State Press and the Port."—Wilmington Star. What! Hasn't 'Sephus cured it of drinking that stuff yet?—Columbia State.

This State will have a State-wide legalized primary whenever the people will stand up and outvote the politicians.—Durham Herald.

"If T. R. wants the Republican nomination," says the Columbia State, "he'll take it." Hardly. He tried that plan at Chicago, and it didn't work worth a cent.—Kansas City Journal.

About the same time that Colonel Roosevelt said tariff revision was a failure because the cost of living had not been lowered, the New York Journal of Commerce reported: "Prices of commodities throughout the world are undergoing a steady decline toward a cheaper cost of living." It is a matter of opinion, and each of us can take his choice.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The proposal of half tolls for American coastwise shipping using the Panama Canal ignores, of course, the obvious fact that there is no possible room for compromise where a question of principle is involved, but who ever heard of subsidy-mongers giving any consideration to principle where their own schemes were concerned? It's government bounty the exemptionists are after, and realizing that they have no chance of getting a whole loaf, they are trying to secure a half one. That's all.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

All the savagery of primitive war and all the accessories available to warriors in 1914 mark the struggle in Mexico. Sometimes quarter is given and sometimes it is not. But Villa engaged in a more or less humorous telephonic conversation with the Federal commander of Torreon before his attack, and he is now in frequent telegraphic correspondence of a grimly humorous tone with General Huerta. Flying machines and armored automobiles are among the material of war. But prisoners are put to death in cold blood or tortured till they give up their money in the spirit that animated contestants a thousand years ago.—Philadelphia Record.

If there were such a thing as re-incarnation, and Zeb Vance, of North Carolina, could come back as a South Carolinian, we believe he would "clean up" this State. A man of knock-down and drag-out methods, ruggedly honest, is the man South Carolina appears to be casting about for. The people of this State are the same as the people of neighboring States. They would respect the same kind of leaders and would support the same kind if such leaders appeared. In the order of events it happens that the right man usually arises at the right time, so perhaps we are in error when we say that South Carolina is seeking for a man to lead her. Yet it appears from an examination of the conditions that a man of honesty and character could find a warm place in the hearts of South Carolinians.—Greenville News.

THE NEW PARK.

To the Editor of The Star:

If you will permit me space, I would like to say a few words in reference to the so-called park on the postoffice grounds.

If I understand correctly, this plot of ground is to remain as it is with possibly a few more plantings of grass. No benches are to be placed there for the use of the public, no shade trees are to be planted there for the comfort of the tired and weary.

The original idea in getting the government to permit the city to make a park there was to have a nice cool place where the tired citizens and visitors could go and rest in the shade of the trees and upon comfortable seats. But somehow, in the shuffle of the cards the original idea has been lost sight of.

The pool in the park is rather deep and it was suggested that a rail should be put around it, but the cry was raised that it would ruin the landscape. Someone thought trees should be planted there, but those who had the making of the park in charge said "No!" Others suggested that benches made comfortable for the rest of the weary could well be placed there, but again came the emphatic "No!"

The city of Wilmington is deeply in debt and her tax rates are high. If the postoffice park is not to benefit the public, I would like to ask why the public is made to pay for it? As it stands now the public is practically warned "off the grass" and we who paid for it must needs walk the beaten path and view the landscape from afar.

CURES PIMPLES EASILY.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company have done a big business in selling Hokara, the skin healer that has won so many friends in Wilmington.

It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but also the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of the unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince everyone of its merits, Hicks Bunting Drug Co., will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c. And remember that if you do not think it does what is claimed, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

REFUSED TO ACCEDE TO COUNCIL'S REQUEST

Commissioners Considered Incinerator Matter

Opposed to Turning Over Plant to City as Council Suggests—Present Management Both Efficient and Economical.

The County Commissioners of New Hanover refused to concur with the City Council in their resolution, enacted several weeks ago, suggesting that the incinerating plant be turned over to the sole management of the city of Wilmington, at an adjourned meeting held yesterday afternoon.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Commissioners a week ago, the matter was referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Yopp, McGirt and Moore for investigation, and they made a report yesterday.

The report of the committee was embodied in the form of a resolution which was submitted by Mr. McGirt and was seconded by Mr. Moore. It sets forth that in view of the fact that the present management is both efficient and economical and that as a change would necessarily prove otherwise that the Commissioners, therefore deem it unwise to make any change in the management. The resolution in full is as follows:

"Whereas, The Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county, by special committee, has investigated the operation and management of the incinerating plant which is owned jointly by the city of Wilmington and the county of New Hanover and is operated by the Board of Health, and;

"Whereas, The said special committee reports the following facts:

"First, the operation of the incinerator since its erection by the Board of Health has been entirely satisfactory in all respects.

"Second, The cost per ton of refuse destroyed is not less than 25 per cent lower than the guaranteed cost per ton.

"Third, The superintendent now employed assisted throughout the erection of the plant, is thoroughly familiar with the features of its construction and has had complete instruction in the care of the plant and its operation from the experts, who installed the boiler, furnace and machinery.

"Fourth, It requires the time and attention of the superintendent to operate the plant, to protect the furnaces and machinery from unnecessary abuse and to keep the plant in repair.

"Fifth, It would be unwise to subject this valuable public property to a change of management when the present management is both efficient and economical.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, That we, the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county, do not concur in the action of the City Council of the city of Wilmington in their proposition, presented to us in resolution, to deliver the said incinerating plant to their sole management and operation."

There was little discussion on the matter and the resolution was adopted unanimously, the entire membership of the board being present at the meeting.

DEATH OF MISS KIRKLAND.

For More Than 20 Years Lady Principal of State Normal.

Hundreds of Wilmington friends and alumnae of the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro were grieved yesterday to learn of the death of Miss Sue May Kirkland, for 22 years lady principal of the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro, N. C., having been connected with the institution since its founding. Miss Kirkland died suddenly in Raleigh at 9 o'clock yesterday morning after a season of poor health for some time.

Her death, however, was sudden and came as a great shock to her friends all over the State. The funeral of Miss Kirkland will be conducted at Raleigh at 11 o'clock this morning and it is not improbable that several from Wilmington will attend the services.

Greensboro, N. C., June 8.—News of the death of Miss Sue May Kirkland, lady principal of the State Normal and Industrial College, which occurred in Raleigh today, created quite an impression upon Greensboro people, especially the faculty at the college. She was well known and highly admired in the city, while thousands of young women of the State loved her. She had been with the college since its opening. She was a woman of the highest culture.

REPLIES TO REV. DR. FOSTER

Mr. Carlyle B. Haynes Answers Sermon Preached at First Baptist Church Sunday Evening.

In a signed communication addressed to the editor of The Star, Mr. Carlyle B. Haynes, who has been conducting a series of religious meetings in the tent at 11th and Market streets, yesterday made reply to a sermon preached by Rev. D. J. H. Foster at the First Baptist church Sunday night, in which Dr. Foster took occasion to criticise the methods practiced by Mr. Haynes and to differ with him as to his alleged opinions as to whether Saturday or Sunday is the true Sabbath day.

Mr. Haynes' communication is as follows:

"In your issue of this morning there is a report of a sermon by Dr. J. H. Foster, of the First Baptist church, in which he strongly criticises the meetings which are being held under my direction in the tent at 11th and Market streets, and the doctrines which he alleges are being taught there. Inasmuch as Dr. Foster has evidently been misinformed as to what has been taught at the tent, and thus falls into grievous error in his charges, and inasmuch as I know that the Wilmington press will not favor either side in such a controversy, I ask your permission to make this reply.

"Before making his attack it would have been well for Dr. Foster to have ascertained the exact facts in the case. I think he has not been present at any one of the meetings which have been held in the tent, or if he has, he has carefully remained in the semi-darkness of the outside. If he had been present as so many others have he would not have been guilty of making such gross misstatements in public.

"The most an rious mistake made by the good doctor is the breaking out of that spir of intolerance which was supposed to have died with the Dark Ages. He seems to have proceeded on the sole idea that nothing now is to be permitted to live at all unless it is in accordance with his own ideas and views. Everything with which he can not agree must be stamped out with the utmost aversion and suspicion. Such a spirit was taken for granted centuries ago, but in this age of liberty its recurrence is a thing to be wondered at. I would recommend to the good doctor a study of the principles of the gospel of Christ.

"In his sermon last night, according to the report in the paper, Dr. Foster charges that as soon as the tent was pitched 'I began an attempt to undermine one of the main doctrines of practically all the churches in the city and one of the very foundations of Christian civilization, by preaching that the Christian Sabbath, Sunday, is no more sacred than any other day in the week and that Saturday is the only true Sabbath.'

Now, if Dr. Foster had been in regular attendance at the tent, he would have known as taose do who have been coming night after night, that I have not once preached on the Sabbath question. Nor have I once made reference to the Sabbath, except on one occasion and that in a very incidental manner, in connection with an interpretation of a prophecy in the seventh chapter of Daniel. I have on no occasion whatever said that 'Sunday is no more sacred than any other day of the week,' or that 'Saturday is the only true Sabbath.'

"The only reference which I had made to the Sabbath before last night's meeting was a mere statement of history to the effect that the change of the day from the seventh to the first day of the week had been brought about by the Roman Catholic Church. And upon this I had made no further comment.

"It is apparent, therefore, that Dr. Foster's whole attack was based upon hearsay evidence, or up his own desire to strike out right and left against everything with which he may not be in agreement, and without even going to the trouble to discover the truthfulness of his charges. I do not believe that the manifest unfairness of such a procedure will tend to increase the estimation in which the reverend gentleman may be held in Wilmington. And I urge him with all kindness before he makes any additional charges to be sure they are true.

"Inasmuch as Dr. Foster has seen fit to challenge the only statement concerning the Sabbath that I did make, that the change in its observance was brought about by the Catholic Church, it is my purpose to reply to him before my own congregation at the tent, and next Friday night I shall speak on The Christian Sabbath, while on the following Sunday night I will take up the historical aspects of the subject under the topic Who Changed the Sabbath? Dr. Foster has put himself out of the line of historical accuracy by the statement that Christ changed the Sabbath, which is utterly unsupported by history.

"As to the charge that Dr. Foster makes concerning the anti-cigarette work which it has been my privilege to do in Wilmington, that this was used as a cloak to conceal an attack on the Christian Sabbath, which I have not made, the charge is so unkind and so utterly unworthy of a Christian gentleman, to say nothing of a Christian minister, that, in kindness to him, I let it pass unnoticed and unrebuked.

OCEANIC WILL NOT OPEN UNTIL JUNE FIFTEENTH.

Manager Hooper Has Postponed the Opening Five Days.

Announcement was made yesterday by Manager Chas. E. Hooper, of the Orton and Oceanic hotels, that the latter establishment, on Wrightsville Beach, will open next Monday, June 15, instead of tomorrow, June 10, as was announced some days ago.

It had first been planned to open The Oceanic on June 10, but after further consideration the management decided that it would pay them better to wait until the middle of the month, five days later.

Manager Hooper is looking forward to a very successful season at The Oceanic this summer. He has a large and capable staff of assistants, all of them experienced men, and proposes to offer the best service it is possible to give.

Most of the work preparatory to opening the hotel has been completed already, though the final details are being arranged this week, and everything will be in readiness for the opening by next Monday.

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

C. H. Ellers, White, Sent to Roads for Alleged Assault.

C. H. Ellers, white, was before the Recorder yesterday morning on a charge of assaulting W. T. Southerland, white, with serious injury. The alleged assault occurred near Tenth and Market streets Sunday night about 10 o'clock, and when the neighbors came out to see what was the matter, Southerland appeared to be getting the worse of the encounter. He said that Ellers had tried to rob him and he swore out a warrant against him, charging him with that offense. However, this was later changed. Ellers was sent to the county roads for 60 days.

Ernest Lyon, colored, was charged with shooting Robert Green, colored, in the foot at a colored restaurant Sunday night. It is said that Lyons had a dispute with another negro and shot at him, hitting Green by mistake. Green was not hurt seriously. The Recorder took the matter under advisement and will render judgment today.

Nick Enlow, colored, was sent to the county roads for three months on a charge of assaulting a female. Archie Gardner, colored, was fined $5 and the costs for disorderly conduct and went to the roads for 30 days in default. William Brown, colored, was given 30 days on tue county roads for assault with a deadly weapon; 60 days for assault on a female, and 30 days more because he was unable to pay a fine of $5 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Louise Cooper, colored, was fined $10 and the costs on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. She couldn't pay it and went to the farm for 30 days in default. William Pew, colored, was fined $10 and the costs for being drunk and went to the roads for 30 days in default.

DEATH OF MISS ANDREWS.

Christian Woman Passed Away at Home at Kerr Sunday Morning.

Many friends were grieved to learn of the death of Miss Annie Andrews, which occurred at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. A. Andrews, at Kerr, on Sunday morning. She had been ill since Christmas. She was 54 years old. A member of the Presbyterian church, she lived a godly consecrated life, and will be sadly missed in her community. Surviving her besides her mother is one sisters, Mrs. A. J. Tatum, of Kerr.

Attended by many friends, the funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the family burying ground near her home. Many beautiful floral tributes attested the love and esteem in which she was held by a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bannerman, of this city, cousins of the deceased, attended the funeral.

DOES NOT GO BY MALMO.

Northwest Good Road Will be Via Leland, Phoenix and Summerville.

The Star is advised that the route selected for the improved road to be built through Northwest Township, Brunswick county, for which bonds in the sum of $15,000 were voted Saturday, will not be by Malmo, as was stated in an article Sunday, but will be via Leland, Phoenix and Summerville, thence to Acme. This will be a distance of about 15 miles through the Township.

The route of the proposed Charlotte-Wilmington highway, of which the stretch through Northwest township is the eastern end, originally contemplated touching Malmo, but the commissioners having the matter in charge finally decided upon the other route, and it was for this latter route that the bonds were voted. Work upon the road will begin, it is stated, as soon as the bonds are sold.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Organized Sunday Night in East Wilmington—Building the Gift of Mr. Oscar Pearsall.

The Pearsall Memorial Presbyterian church was organized at the Pearsall Memorial Presbyterian church building in East Wilmington Sunday night, starting with a membership of 27 and an active Sunday School and Christian Endeavor Society. The organization was perfected by a commission appointed at the last meeting of Presbytery, composed of Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, chairman; Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, and Mr. W. H. Sprunt.

Rev. H. W. Koelling, formerly assistant pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, will be pastor of the new church, a call having been extended to him at the organization meeting, and which he has accepted.

Mr. Oscar Pearsall, Mr. J. L. Gorman and Dr. Joseph Akerman were elected ruling elders and Messrs. J. Mercer Taylor, Melzar Pearsall and H. C. Blake were elected deacons.

The organization was attended by a large and interested congregation, the majority of the members being from St. Andrew's church, and including about 25 received in meetings recently held by Evangelist Robert King, associated by the pastor, Rev. H. W. Koelling, then acting as assistant to Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's church.

The new church took the name of the Pearsall Memorial Presbyterian Church. The beautiful building is a gift to the congregation from Mr. Oscar Pearsall, and is fitted and furnished completely for the work.

The organization of the church in East Wilmington was the culmination of preaching services held by Dr. McClure in the school house there since 1892, and more recently, during the charge of the present pastor, by his assistant, Rev. Mr. Koelling. Touching allusions were made to these facts by Mr. W. H. Sprunt, Mr. Oscar Pearsall, Dr. Joseph Akerman and others.

The new church begins its work under the most favorable circumstances. Preaching services will be held every Sabbath morning, and the work of the Sunday School and Christian Endeavor Society, formerly conducted in the school house, will now be transferred to the handsome new church building.

COUNCIL ABOUT READY TO MAKE ITS COMPLAINT.

Charges of Inefficiency and Extravagance Will be Complaint.

Councilman W. F. Jones stated yesterday, speaking of the pending investigation of the health department as agreed upon by the majority of county and the citizens' committee following the adjustment of the health budget controversy, that council was prepared to make the necessary charges, or complaint, as he preferred it to be styled, within 24 hours after receiving notice of the selection of the third member of the investigating committee, who is to be detailed by the surgeon-general of the United States public health service upon request of the Board of County Commissioners.

Mr. W. E. Worth, first selected to represent the majority of council on the investigating committee, was relieved at his own request and Mr. M. J. Corbett was selected by the members to serve in his stead. Mr. J. Allan Taylor was named by the citizens' committee as its representative on the investigating committee.

Mr. Jones said yesterday that the complaint would be based wholly on what citizens had told council, or complaints made by citizens, and that it would be along the lines of charges of inefficiency and extravagance.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIAL.

And Business Meeting at First Presbyterian Church Tonight.

The monthly social and business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors tonight beginning at 8 o'clock. All of the members are urged to be present as business of importance is to be transacted at the meeting.

The social feature following the business meeting will be a lawn party on the spacious grounds of the church. The entertainment committee has been busy and a very enjoyable programme has been arranged. Light refreshments will be served.

On Friday night the society will give a trip down the Cape Fear river aboard the steamer Wilmington. Every one is invited to make the trip and a glorious time is assured those who go. Refreshments will be served aboard the boat. The steamer will leave her pier at 8 o'clock.

MR. W. B. WILLIS DEAD.

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at Harper's Sanitarium.

Friends will regret to learn of the death of Mr. W. B. Willis, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Harper's Sanitarium, after an illness of several weeks. The funeral will be held this morning at 11 o'clock, from the residence of his daughter, Miss Hattie Willis, No. 111 North Fifth street. The interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Mr. Willis was in his 60th year. He was a native of Wilmington, but had lived for the last 20 years in Georgia.

He was a printer, and had many friends in the newspaper business. He returned to Wilmington several months ago.

Surviving him are three daughters: Miss Hattie Willis, of Wilmington; Mrs. Percy N. Holland, of Tarhael, and Mrs. Geo. V. Wynne, of Durham, and two sisters: Mrs. Chas. D. Jacobs and Mrs. A. J. Marshall, both of this city. They will have the tender sympathy of many friends.

IMPROVING 17TH STREET.

County Road Gang Started to Work Yesterday Morning.

At the last meeting of the Board of County Commissioners it was decided to improve 17th street from Market street to Bellevue cemetery. Carrying out these instructions, a force of county convicts started to work on this stretch of street yesterday morning and will put it in first-class shape. It will be graded and rock laid, making it thoroughly modern in every respect. The part of the street to be improved embraces three city blocks.

After the street has been graded and the rock has been laid, it will then be oiled.

—Judgment, costs and interest, amounting in all to $507.15, was settled in Superior court yesterday in the case of R. M. Masters against Joseph Schad.

Quick Relief When Utterly Worn Out

Getting the Blood in Order Is Required By Most People

If you think you have gone to smash and fit only for the discard, try S. S. S. for the blood. It will surprise you to know what can be done for health once the blood is released of the excess of body wastes that keep it from exercising its full measure of bodily repair.

If you feel played out, go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, scatters germs right and left, up and down and sideways.

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine.

The ingredients in S. S. S. serve the active purpose of so stimulating the cellular tissues of the body that they pick out from the blood their own essential nutriment and thus repair work begins at once. The relief is general all over the system.

Do not neglect to get a bottle of S. S. S. today. It will make you feel better in just a few minutes. It is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 530 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Send for their free book telling of the many strange conditions that afflict the human family by reason of impoverished blood.

The Day of Fake Advertising is Passing

As a matter of self-protection, as well as protection of the public, we are downright glad to see the dawn of honest advertising.

The store that has honest merchandise at right prices need not hesitate to tell the truth.

For Example, we never had the least difficulty in advertising Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes for men. They contain so much that is superlatively good that the plain truth about them is the simplest kind of a story.

But after all they tell their own story better than cold type can tell it. If you, Mr. Man, are not familiar with that story and the clothes that tell it, don't you wait another day to hear it.

WEDDING OF INTEREST SOLEMNIZED AT ROWLAND.

Rowland, N. C., June 8.—In a ceremony marked by simplicity and impressiveness, Miss Katie McNeill and Rev. G. F. Kirkpatrick were wedded Thursday evening of the past week at 8:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. H. J. Mills, pastor of the church, officiated.

The church was attractively decorated with palms, ferns and pink sweet peas. Prior to the ceremony a musical programme was rendered. Mr. Rowland Brown, violinist, of Red Springs, N. C., played "Because," from Jocelyn, accompanied by Miss Agnes McLean, of Lumberton. Then Miss May Carmichael, of Dillon, S. C., sang "Because I Love You."

As the notes of the wedding march from Lohengrin sounded the ushers, Messrs. A. D. McKenzie, J. A. McCoy, of Rowland; Don Townsend, of McDonald, N. C., and W. D. McKay, of Red Springs, entered. Following came the bridesmaids, Miss Lida Reid, of Matthews, with Mr. D. A. Cox, of Rowland; Miss Myrtle Tilman, of Lowell, with Rev. W. B. McIlwaine, of Maxton. The bridesmaids wore pink dresses of chiffon and lace and carried pink carnations.

Preceding the bride came the two little flower girls, Sara and Elizabeth McCallum, nieces of the bride. They wore hand-made frocks of white batiste with blue and pink sashes and hair ribbons. The bride, lovely in her wedding gown of white crepe meteor with lace and pearl trimmings, carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley, entered with her maid of honor, Miss Bertha McNeill. Miss McNeill wore pale blue crepe de chine with lace over-dress, and carried an armful of Killarney roses. The groom, accompanied by Dr. L. R. Kirkpatrick, his best man, of Maxton, awaited the bride at the altar. While the vows were being spoken Miss McLean and Mr. Brown softly played "Salut D'Amour."

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McNeill, of Rowland. Mr. Kirkpatrick is the youngest son of Mrs. Laura Kirkpatrick, of Memphis, Tenn., and is pastor of the Presbyterian church of Kenly, where the happy couple will make their future home.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. J. Johnson, Misses Ethel and Annie Johnson, Miss Rosa McMillan, Mr. Douglass McMillan, Mr. Mack McArthur, Misses Mamie and Bessie McKay, Mr. Sam McKay, of Red Springs; Miss Sara Shaw, of Kinston; Misses Sallie McQueen, Effie McMillan, Mary Fairley, Mabel Currie and Mr. J. E. Berryhill, of Parkton; Miss Bettie Jordan, of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Biggs, Miss Cammie McNeill, Messrs. Elwood Whaley, James Russell, of Lumberton; Mrs. John McCallum, of Raynham.

Mr. A. G. Smith, formerly of this city, spent a very pleasant week-end with friends at the Dunn cottage, returning last night to Rocky Mount, where he is now in the service of the Atlantic Coast Line.

Mr. Claude Elam, of Richmond, Va., and his orchestra opened their engagement at the Seashore Hotel Saturday and are giving daily concerts from 12 to 2 o'clock and again in the evening.

A fishing party composed of Messrs. A. J. Cromartie, Charlotte; C. A. Bland, Wadesboro, and W. E. Sloan, of Statesville, had splendid luck yesterday morning fishing near the old wreck in front of Lumina. They caught a number of large sheephead and other fish. They went out in the launch Louise.

"Polly Peachtree" in Sunday's Atlanta Georgian: "By the way, I hear that Lottie Wylie is going to Wrightsville Beach the latter part of June for a month. She had a beautiful time there last summer. I trust she will be the most popular girl on the beach this year, as she might very easily be, so vivacious is she and so piquant and charming in her dainty frocks."

OUT AGAIN, IN AGAIN.

B. Israel Has Hard Time Arranging Bond—Whiskey Seized.

Out again, in again is the predicament in which B. Israel, the young traveling man, who was arrested Saturday night on a charge of having violated the prohibition law, finds himself. He arranged Sunday with Mr. Charles Finkelstein to go on his bond until yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. When he failed to appear at that time Justice Harriss issued a capias for his re-arrest.

Constable Davis set out on a search for Israel, but first found Mr. Finkelstein, to whom he gently broke the news that he was expected to put up $200 of perfectly good money for Israel's failure to appear at the time specified. Mr. Finkesiten got busy and soon located israel and he was brought into court again. Justice Harriss stated last night that he had not decided whether or not he would make Mr. Finkelstein pay the bond.

In the meantime Mr. H. Mack Godwin had gone to the express office and found seven packages of supposed booze, three gallons in each, which had been shipped to well known citizens of this city from the firm for whom Israel is said to have been soliciting orders. One of the packages was consigned to Israel. It is now safely stored in the office of Justice Harriss, but none of them have been opened though it is assumed that they contain "good liquor."

The wires were kept hot yesterday with messages to Morse & Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, for whom Israel is said to have been working. Yesterday afternoon the firm arranged with Wilder & Metts to give a bond in a surety company, but Justice Harriss was not satisfied with the legality of the arrangements, with the result that Israel was again last night the guest of Jailer Branch. His trial is set for tomorrow morning before Justice Harriss.

CAPT. BELDEN'S FUNERAL.

Services from Residence Yesterday. Interment in Oakdale.

The funeral of Capt. Louis S. Belden, whose death occurred at his home, No. 116 South Fourth street, Sunday afternoon, was conducted from the residence yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church. Members of Cape Fear Camp of Confederate Veterans attended the funeria in a body and escorted the remains of their departed comrade to the grave.

The services were attended by many friends from the city and elsewhere. After the services at the home the remains were borne tenderly to Oakdale cemetery for interment. The grave was covered with many beautiful floral designs.

The pall-bearers were: Honorary, Messrs. James Sprunt, R. C. Cantwell, H. G. Smallbones, Walter G. MacRae, W. J. Craig and N. B. Rankin; active, Col. Walker Taylor, Messrs. W. H. Brown, Henry J. MacMillan, W. L. deRosset, Frank L. Williams and Mayor P. Q. Moore.

RENDERS WISE DECISION.

Justice Bornemann Showed Himself to be a Master of Horse Flesh.

Justice Bornemann showed himself to be possessed with a keen knowledge of horses yesterday in a decision in the case in which D. P. Green, white, was charged with false pretense by W. H. Payton, colored, because the latter charged that the former had sold him a horse with "broken wind," representing said horse to be sound. Justice Bornemann, after hearing a part of the evidence, expressed a desire to test the horse to find out whether or not he was sound.

He mounted the horse, rode him down Third street, then around to Castle street and back again at a rapid pace. Upon his return he announced that the horse did not have "broken wind" but was slightly affected with the heaves. This being in line with the contention of the prosecution, he taxed the defendant with the costs, with the understanding that he is to give Payton a good horse.

Plans will also be discussed for building up the membership of the local association. Mr. E. H. Munson is president of the Wilmington Association and vice president of the State Association. Mr. S. R. Keyes is secretary and treasurer of the local organization.

REPLIES TO SOUTH CAROLINA MILL MEN.

McKelway Says Mill Owners Benefit by Child Labor Law.

Washington, June 8.—Dr. A. J. McKelway, Southern secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, has just filed with the House Committee on Labor a written reply to the statements of the three South Carolina mill owners who spoke at Washington recently against the Palmer-Owen Federal child labor bill. Dr. A. J. McKelway quotes their own words to snow that they would benefit from such legislation.

He reminds the committee that one mill president said at the hearing: "If I were today to consult my own immediate selfish interests as to employment under 14 years of age, it is not cheap labor," and Dr. McKelway comments that if this statement is meant to stand, the Congress of the United States will really be doing the cotton manufacturers of South Carolina a service by forbidding the employment of dear labor.

The same mill president, replying to a question from the committee, had congratulated California upon its high age limit and said, "I also believe that in South Carolina, as soon as conditions justify such public sentiment, the people there will make provision also for the education of the children and for the support of the children." Again Dr. McKelway comments: "If Mr. Parker and his fellow manufacturers will cease their opposition to child labor legislation by the State of South Carolina, there will be little left to overcome in the way of securing other conditions for child welfare, and if they had not been resisting such legislation for the past decade and more, South Carolina would not now be affected in any way by the passage of the Palmer bill."

Dr. McKelway reviews all the familiar arguments in favor of the bill and gives the census figures for various States to show how large a majority of the population have embodied in State laws the standards proposed in this bill.

BIG STEEL CONTRACT.

Engineering Department Will Call for Bids for 1,576 Tons Steel.

Maj. H. W. Stickle, United States engineer, has prepared plans and specifications for a contract to furnish 1,576 tons of steel sheet piling, to be used in the erection of two large cofferdams at Brown's Landing, near Elizabethtown. The cofferdams will be used in connection with the erection of locks and a dam at that point, this being a part of the canalization project for the upper Cape Fear.

Bids will be advertised for tomorrow. All bids must be in Maj. Stickle's office by July 10th, when they will be opened.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer
These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Discolored, freckled and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night and washed off in the morning.
As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day, or before going out for theatre or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.

What You Cannot See
THERE are many things about a suit that you cannot see—their presence or absence is only manifest after long wear.
Those things you assume to be in your clothes if you buy them of a reputable house.
You are safe in dealing with a firm that has a reputation for Quality Merchandise, for such a reputation takes a long time to build and is a very precious asset and, like most precious things, is easily destroyed.
We have spent years of time and thousands of dollars in building our business reputation as Value Givers in Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods.
And because we know that the slightest misstatement would bring that reputation down like a house of cards, you may rest assured that when we say our David-Hart, Schaffner & Marx Clothes, our Hats, our Haberdashery offer the greatest values in Wilmington, at their prices, we say it advisedly and only after careful investigation.
So if you want the best clothes your money can buy at $25 or LESS, or if value in Hats or Furnishings means anything to you, come to

READY FOR INVESTIGATION

TO

...nty Commissioners Will Take ...steps to Complete Committee When Officially Notified.

The Board of County Commissioners at the adjourned regular session yesterday afternoon adopted a resolution, expressing their pleasure at the action of the Council in approving the health budget and declaring that they are ready to ask the surgeon-general the United States public health service to name the third member of the investigating committee, as soon as the matter is brought to their attention as provided for in the resolution adopted by the citizens' committee.

All the members of the board were present and the meeting was presided over by Chairman M. S. Willard. In the absence of the clerk, Mr. W. A. Williams, a record of the proceedings was made by Mr. J. A. Orrell, county auditor. County Attorney W. P. Stacy was also present.

The resolution relative to the health budget is as follows:

"Whereas, it has come to our attention through the newspapers that the City Council has agreed to the budget as provided by the Board o Health, and,

"Whereas, it has also been brought to our attention that provision has been made by the Council for an investigation of the affairs of the Board of Health when written charges for hall have been preferred against it chand this board is requested to take lut art in the investigation by requesting the surgeon-general of the sio nited States public health service spo appoint one of the persons who th hall conduct the proposed investigation, said person to be an officer of the United States public health service.

"Therefore, be it resolved, That this board expresses its great satisfaction at this action of the council and also its appreciation of the decision of those Councilmen who surrendered their personal views for what we believe to be the good of the community.

"Resolved, second, that this Board is ready to promote the proposed investigation and will take immediate em eps to complete the investigating erec committee as soon as the matter is fami ught to our attention as provided stru in the resolution adopted by the citi zens' Committee and presented to the City Council."

Tax Assessors Appointed.

Messrs. John R. Hanby and R. C. Cantwell were appointed tax assessors for Wilmington township. There will be no reassessment of property excent where improvements have been made. These gentlemen were selected for this year only.

After considerable discussion it was decided to make the office hours in the Register of Deeds' office from 9 A. M., until 6 P. M., from May 1 until October 1 except on Saturdays when the office will close at 1 P. M. Commissioner Moore moved that the office hours from October 1 to May 1 be made from 9 A. M. until 6 P. M. also instead of having the office close at 5 P. M. as at present, but later withdrew the motion. He was strongly of the opinion that the office should stay open until 6 o'clock throughout the year.

Mr. John Haar, register of deeds, was present when the action was taken. He did not object to the extension of the hours during the summer, but was of the opinion that the office should close at 5 P. M. in the winter as it would be necessary to have lights after that time.

It was voted by the board to give Mr. Haar and his two assistants vaations of two weeks each as was ...e last year. This was done at Mr. ...aar's request.

Chairman Willard suggestd that it would be a good idea to have the records which are copied in the file books of the office of the register of deeds made out with a single space typewriter instead of double space as at present in order to keep the records from becoming too bulky. After some discussion it was decided to have all the copying done with single spaces except the descriptions of lands which will still be double spaced. Commissioner McGirt was of the opinion that it would be better to have the records look neat and did not think that the mater of saving space in the vaults presented such a serious problem.

The chairman of the board was authorized to borrow enough money to pay the interest on the school bonds which become due July 1. The amount assessed against property at Winter Park Gardens, owned by S. R. Ellis, reducing it from $1,000 to $550. It was also voted to refund him the county taxes on the property last year as it appeared to be an error.

A communication was read from Mr. R. H. Northrop, city clerk and treasurer of Wrightsville Beach, informing the commissioners of the request of the property owners of that place that the town be provided with a health officer at the expense of the county in view of the fact they annually pay more than $2,000 in taxes and get none of it in return for improvements on highways. The matter was referred to the Board of Health.

Bills to the amount of $87.65 presented by Mr. J. L. Becton, civil engineer, for services and repairs to ditches at Winter Park, on Hewlett's Creek and the Wrightsboro road were ordered paid.

PARENTS ARE BEREAVED.

Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Cantwell Died Yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Cantwell will have the tender sympathy of a host of friends in the death of their 20-months old son, Paul L. Cantwell, Jr., which occurred yesterday morning at 8:15 o'clock at the home of his grand parents, Prof. and Mrs. Washington Catlett, No. 117 Orange street. The child was just recovering from an attack of measles.

The funeral will be conducted from the residence, No. 117 Orange street, this morning, at 10:30 o'clock, by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Will Open Vacation School.

Misses Shaw and LeGwin will open a vacation school at No. 11 South Third street on Friday, June 12th, and regular lessons will begin on the following Monday to continue for five weeks. The purpose of the school is to assist those who have work to make up either in the grammar school or High School grades or are trying for double promotion. Those desiring further information may phone Miss Shaw at No. 1783-J, or Miss LeGwin No. 868.

Today's Short Story

Making a Hero

Willie Huggins was a delicate child. He shrank from firecrackers on the Fourth of July, and a sharp report close to his ear always made him start. He grew up to be just such a man as he had been a child—timid, shy, reserved.

When Willie Huggins was twenty—he was still called Willie instead of Will—he fell desperately in love with Helena Gunter. He was captivated by Helena's flashing dark eyes and regular features. He wooed Helena by some very delicate compliments in verse. They had no effect upon her. One of his schoolmates, Mary Crane, with whom he had always been friends, was Willie's confidant in the matter. Mary advised him either to let Helena alone or woo her in a more practical way. About that time war broke out, and Willie was given to understand that Helena would not bestow her favor on any but a soldier.

Willie did not wish to be a soldier, but he wanted Helena, so he enlisted.

When Willie heard that the enemy was intrenched twenty miles away and the command was going to dislodge it, he fell into a violent tremble. During the march he recovered somewhat, and when the men began to deploy for an attack he experienced a mild excitement which he mistook for bravery.

The fights in which Willie was at first engaged were unimportant affairs and soon ended. If he was so frightened in a skirmish, what would be his condition in a battle? He began to dread the terrible disgrace that he was sure was in store for him more than the battle itself. When it came he nerved himself to go through it without flinching. He did better than before because he had become a veteran, though there was the same cowardly heart. His regiment was drawn up behind a hill, the men resting on their arms in reserve.

The men were ordered to lie down and fire from behind a low breastwork. A bullet came along and grazed his elbow, hurting him. He felt a momentary desire to hit the man who sent it. Then his hat was knocked off. He began to be irritated. By this time he had suffered so much from fear that he had lost some of the dread of being killed. The next tap he got was on the shoulder, and it made him very angry. A soldier beside him gave a groan and rolled over on his back. Willie began to boil. A man crawled out of a hole a dozen yards in advance, got up on his feet, tottered a short distance back toward cover and was knocked down by a fragment of a shell. Willie felt that he would like to head a regiment and take the battery that fired that shell. The wounded man was lying in an exposed position, and Willie, heedless of the terrific fire, got up, went out to the man and dragged him back to cover. A shout went up along the line of those who saw the act. Willie, unconscious that such a coward as himself had done anything remarkable, did not suppose they were cheering him for an act of bravery.

All the officers of his company having been killed in the battle, Willie was made captain. Having found it so hard to take himself into action, he dreaded attempting to lead others. Strangely enough, the responsibility caused him to forget his danger, and he made a very good officer. He rose to be major, which office he was promoted to before the close of the war.

When he got home he found that Helena Gunter had married a ladies' tailor. Mary Crane had heard of the major's final success as a soldier, and, though she had believed there was sufficient pride in him not to disgrace himself, she was somewhat surprised and much gratified at the result. Meeting Helena, he was surprised at her commonplace appearance. He was as much surprised that he had not, instead, fallen in love with Mary, who had always had a secret fancy for him, but he made up for lost time by an early proposal.

An Old Favorite

The Driftwood Fire

WE sat within the farmhouse old,
Whose windows, looking o'er the bay,
Gave to the sea breeze damp and cold
An easy entrance night and day.

We spake of many a vanished scene,
Of what we once had thought and said,
Of what had been and might have been
And who was changed and who was dead.

Oft died the words upon our lips
As suddenly from out the fire,
Built of the wrecks of stranded ships,
The flames would leap and then expire.

And as their splendor flashed and failed
We thought of wrecks upon the main,
Of ships dismasted that were hailed
And sent no answer back again.

The windows, rattling in their frames;
The ocean, roaring up the beach;
The gusty blast, the bickering flames,
All mingled vaguely in our speech

Until they made themselves a part
Of fancies floating through the brain,
The long lost ventures of the heart
That send no answers back again.

Oh, flames that glowed! Oh, hearts that yearned!
They were indeed too much akin—
The driftwood fire without that burned,
The thoughts that burned and glowed within.

—Longfellow.

FASHION REVIVALS.

Some of Them Date Back to the Styles of Thirty Years Ago.

It becomes more and more the fashion to apply the becoming cross over style to evening bodices, and even when these crossed draperies are composed of fragile materials such as tulle or chiffon there is an underbodice of flesh pink silk. It is undoubtedly true that at a little distance the modern evening gown looks decollete, but the models sent out by first rate dressmakers are in reality quite free from exaggeration.

It is interesting to note that the 1880 period continues to influence existing fashions—for instance, the plaited skirt set into a plain top which molds the hips, accompanied by a supple sash which is passed round the waist and then tied at one side. This is quite 1880. And the same may be said for the corsages with long mitten sleeves and for the high crowned hats with narrow brims.

Then the large pinked out ruches which are now appearing on the skirts of smart dinner gowns are 1881-2. These same ruches will also be worn round the neck in Pierrot fashion, and there is little doubt that they will quickly become popular. In shot taffeta or in silk muslin these neck ruffles are charming.

The Careful Scots.

A Scot and his wife came to London, and the worthy pair were in a hundred fears concerning the diabolical ingenuity of London thieves.

As they took their first walk down the Strand the husband whispered of a sudden hoarsely in her ears, "Janet, wumman, hast thou got thy teeth feexed feermly in thy gums?"

"Na, na," she answered; "A'm no sich a fule! I've left 'em safely lockit awa' in the portmonty!"—London Chronicle.

Sympathy.

Young Actor—My "Faust" seems to be a failure. Poor Goethe!—Fliegende Blatter.

Men's Evening Clothes.

The masculine dress suit, if not beautiful, is democratic. It puts all men at a social function on a level with one another and saves them from the bitter rivalry of dress. You never find a man dejected and bad tempered because the fellow sitting opposite has a better tailor than his or has been able to spend more money upon his dress tie or shirt. The vanity of male youth must express itself in socks or his ordinary attire. The democratic dress suit is sacred.—Exchange.

Egg Yolks.

Eggs of different species of birds greatly differ in shapes, but the yolks are invariably spherical.

REPRESENTATIVE MOORE of Pennsylvania has become known throughout the country as the father of the waterways. Rivers and harbors, canals and dredging matters are uppermost in his mind.

"Do you know, Moore," said his colleague, Representative Edmonds, recently, "why it is that you remind me of an inhabitant of the planet Mars?"

Mr. Moore avowed his inability to see any relation between himself and the aforesaid astronomical body.

"Well," replied Edmonds, "the reason is, Moore, because you are so full of canals."

A friend met Senator Martine of New Jersey on the street the day after New Year's day and asked him how he had enjoyed the holiday.

"Oh, fine, fine!" responded Martine. "I'll tell you about it. Senator Bradley invited me up to have a real old fashioned Kentucky eggnog with him and a party of friends.

"I looked up his address and set blithely forth. They told me he had moved. I went to the next place, but he didn't live there. Some one suggested he lived at another location. I tried that also without success. Honestly, I've been chasing that eggnog for two days and haven't caught up with it yet!"

Representative Roberts of Nevada tells a story about a congressman and a colored attache to a legation in Washington representing a colored nation. The colored attache was being shown through the committee rooms when the congressman wandered in for his overcoat.

"Here," thundered the congressman to the attache, "take this coat and brush it and hold it for me!"

Paralyzed into a state of coma, the attache obeyed and then departed with frigid dignity.

"What's the matter with him?" asked the congressman.

"That man," said the other as he prepared to hurry after the attache, "is a baron in his own country."

"Huh; that's all right!" said the member of congress, with the dignity of three kings and a pair of queens. "Five bartenders have told me today that I'm a prince!"

Representative Julius Kahn of California has found his size of some disadvantage in foreign countries when it comes to the matter of transportation. In various oriental countries the carriers charged him double. But in Japan he met his reward. In Nippon fat is regarded as a sign of beauty and is an object greatly to be wished for by the men. One evening Mr. Kahn and his wife were at a bazaar. Strolling about, they finally paused before the booth of a fair maiden.

The girl gazed with admiration on the imposing figure of the American representative and at last ran out from behind the table, threw her arms around his neck and burst out into exclamations of delight.

"Oh, how nice!" she cried in broken English. "Nice and fat!" proceeding to bestow a series of most emphatic hugs on the embarrassed gentleman from California.

Representative Carter Glass was talking about a man who had wrong ideas on finance.

"I argued with him for two hours," said Representative Glass. "I laid all the facts before him, but it was no use. He was obstinate, hopelessly obstinate."

Mr. Glass frowned and shook his head. Then he ended:

"An obstinate man, you know, does not hold opinions; they hold him."

THE HOME ECONOMIST.

Paste the owner's initials over each towel used on a large family towel rack.

To clean velvet, stretch it taut, pile upward, over a basin of boiling water. As the steam rises through the velvet have a second person brush it briskly with a clean brush.

To distinguish cotton from linen, moisten a spot of the material. If the material wets through instantly it is pure linen. Cotton does not take up moisture so quickly.

To test silk, fray out the threads and break them. If they snap easily it is not good. The warp thread running lengthwise should be of equal strength with the wool thread running crosswise.

When darning table linen it is best to use a raveling from the goods. Where there is a hole, put under it a piece of the same material, carefully matching the pattern. If the darning is carefully done the hole will not be noticeable.

A great convenience is the slip cover for hangers. It keeps the dust off suits and gowns. Purchase a yard and a half of flowered lawn, merely hem the edges of the lawn and cut a hole in the center. Buttonhole the latter, slip the cover over the hook of the hanger and it is ready for work.

A DAILY THOUGHT.

SUNDAY.

Try not to be envious of other people. Only the wearer of the shoe knows where it pinches, and if you could change places you might not be so happy as you expect.

MONDAY.

If you are asked to do or bear anything don't at once say, "Oh, no; I couldn't!" "I'll try" is so much more courageous. The world has need of brave men and women.

TUESDAY.

"Nobody can be more ready than I am to obey orders, but I must like the orders and the orderers," wrote Chesterfield. The fact that most of us are built that way accounts for a great proportion of family differences that arise.

WEDNESDAY.

We would fain have others perfect, and yet we cannot amend our own defects.

THURSDAY.

None of us are here merely to do as we please. We are here to do our work, whatever it may be, really well.

FRIDAY.

One's vocation is never a far-off possibility. It consists in doing the work that lies ready at our hand.

SATURDAY.

If you want to be really liked you must put Self—the self with a capital S—in the background.

CARE OF METALS.

Bronzes should be washed with beer and polished with chamois.

Benares brass may be kept in good condition simply by washing once a month in warm soapsuds with borax in it. Use a brush if very dirty.

After cleaning brass or copper with salt and vinegar rub with olive oil and the metal will not tarnish for a long time.

If the gilded picture frames have become discolored take the water in which onions have been boiled, dip a soft rag in it and wipe over the frames.

The best method of keeping small screws, brads and tacks from rusting is to place them in small wide mouthed bottles and cork tightly. The bottle should be perfectly dry before using. Sandpaper can be kept dry and in good working condition by rolling it and keeping it in a wide mouthed jar and screwing down the lid.

The House Phone.

Housekeepers should remember that both the transmitter and the receiver will transmit dirt germs and odors.

Unscrew the tops of both and sterilize thoroughly.

Use warm water with weak carbolic acid or the suds of carbolic acid soap.

HINTS FOR THE WOMAN WHO IS UP TO DATE.

Choosing Gloves.

Don't wear white gloves if your hands are rather larger than you could wish. White increases the apparent size of the hands tremendously.

If you want to make your hands seem small always wear gloves of the same color as your costume. A white costume is the only one with which you may have white gloves.

And don't wear short, two button gloves with a coat and skirt which has an elbow sleeved blouse below it, for sooner or later the coat sleeves are sure to work up a little and leave a gap of bare arm between the top of the glove and the bottom of the sleeve. This looks bad, but when the wrist is red and roughened by the cold it looks offensive.

Smart Stationery.

Extravagantly large sizes in writing paper sheets and envelopes are the latest things in stationery. Double sheets that fold once before fitting into envelopes of eight by four inch dimensions are not considered extra sized and mere correspondence cards are as wide and as long.

Both these extreme sizes—according to the ones in use a few years ago—come in the fashionable blue and mauve tints and have envelopes lined with deep purple tissue or in shirting stripe patterns, as they are called.

Envelopes to which are fitted pure white sheets of paper are lined with palest blue tissue and there are pale gray toned sheets that fold into envelopes striped with black and white.

A Hint.

Hazel (sweetly)—These opera glasses were given to me a year ago.

Frank—Aren't they beautiful?

Hazel—Yes, but I discovered this afternoon that they're beginning to rust for lack of use.

Resourceful.

The Mistress—Here's a hole in my new tablecloth.

The Maid—Yes'm, I've seen it. I'm goin' to turn the tablecloth over so the hole will be on the underside.

TRIMMED STOCKINGS.

To be ultra smart your evening stockings must be elaborately trimmed. You may do it in several ways. Either sew on the stripes of narrow satin ribbon so that it shall form a latticed or a laced effect or wind it spirally about the calf, starting from the heel and ending under a single small tassel at the outer side of the knee.

If you don't care for ribbon trimmings or stockings use lace. The narrow bands of lace insertion may be perpendicularly down the legs to make them look more slender, or they may run in diagonal rows from front to back and end under a frill of narrow lace that covers the seam of the heel to the undersides of the knee.

Trimmed stockings are known as tangos and are designed for wear with split skirts.

An Old Favorite

There Is a Garden

There is a garden in her face,
Where roses and white lilies blow;
A heavenly paradise is that place,
Wherein all pleasant fruits do grow.
There cherries grow that none may buy
Till cherry ripe themselves do cry.

Those cherries fairly do inclose
Of orient pearls a double row,
Which when her lovely laughter shows,
They look like rosebuds filled with snow.
Yet them no peer nor prince may buy
Till cherry ripe themselves do cry.

Her eyes like angels watch them still;
Her brows like bended bows do stand,
Threatening with piercing frowns to kill
All that approach with eye or hand
These sacred cherries to come nigh,
Till cherry ripe themselves do cry.

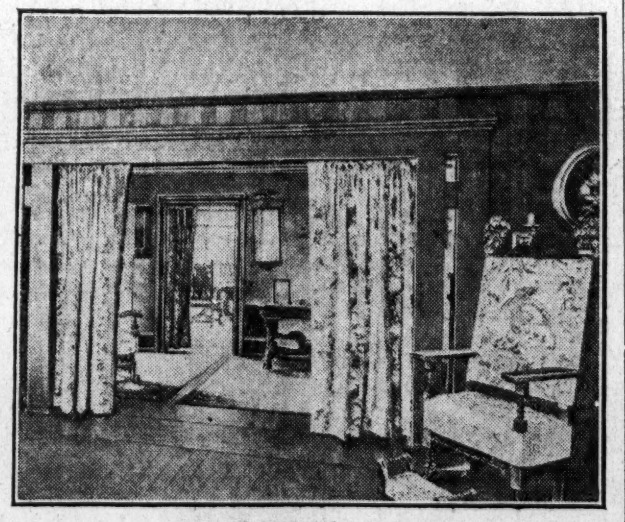
New Cretonnes Suitable For Summer Interiors



CRETONNE HANGINGS.

CHINTZ and cretonnes are most useful in fitting up the house for summer. With the housecleaning season on, when the housewife makes such changes as are necessary in the interior decorations, the picture shown here is of interest. It discloses a view of living and dining room as seen from the hall. Cretonne curtains in bird of paradise design drape the doorways, while the walls are covered with two toned striped paper in greenish gray.

Today's Short Story

The Wax Figure

ONE morning Howard Dyson, who had recently struck gold in Colorado and was visiting New York to see the sights, emerged from his hotel, walked a few steps on a side street, crossed Fifth avenue and proceeded leisurely southward. Suddenly he stopped at a shop window.

The main feature for display was a wax figure of a woman in costly attire of the very latest pattern. Never were face and shoulders more true to life. The image was not only beautiful, but there was an aristocratic mien about it which could only have been modeled from a woman of noble lineage. Dyson stood spellbound.

"It beats all," he muttered to himself, "what marvelous things are to be seen in this wonderful city. Who would ever suppose that lovely creature could be made of wax, stuffed with straw? I don't believe it's wax at all. The chest rises and falls just like that of a human being."

Dyson watched the figure as long as he could without attracting attention; then, calling an automobile cab, he rode through Central park, returned to his hotel, lunched and, lighting a cigar, strolled out to take another view of the wax figure. This time it did not seem so lifelike. He determined to enter the store, look over the goods and ask some questions. He found an old man who spoke with a strong French accent. After being shown a number of articles he began to talk to the old man about the figure in the window.

"How do you make the thing breathe?" he asked.

"Ah, m'sieur, when I was young I visited a famous waxwork show in Paris, where I saw the reclining figure of a woman made to appear to breathe. I was not content till I had made machinery for a like purpose. That machinery is now in the figure."

That evening Dyson spoke to one of the clerks in his hotel and asked him about the old Frenchman.

"The Count de Guronne? He is a ruined French spendthrift who came over here recently, and to make a living opened a shop."

Dyson spent a month in New York, every day passing the wax figure. Finally he noticed that between 11 and 12 o'clock in the morning and between 3 and 4 in the afternoon it looked like life, while at all other times it was waxy. One day he came to a sudden determination. Walking resolutely into the store, he faced the count.

"Mr. Count," he said, "you can't fool me any longer. The image is only in the window two hours each day and is no image at all. It's a woman, and the woman I want. I am a bachelor and rich. This woman is some relative of yours who has followed you in your misfortune. I desire to propose for her hand."

The count admitted that the woman was his relative. He promised to speak to her about Dyson's proposition.

"Monsieur," said the count when Dyson called the next day, "if you like we will proceed to make the settlements." And he produced a contract making over $100,000 in case of marriage and a forfeit of $10,000 in case Dyson should change his mind. The lover did not like the $10,000 clause, but his mind was made up that the possession of this beautiful flower of French nobility must be his, and he signed. A few minutes after the execution of the paper the count went to the window and under pretense of rearranging it held up a curtain behind which the transfer was effected, and the woman stepped into the shop.

"Ah, monsieur," she said, bending her eyes to the floor, "I have heard how you have honored me!" then passed to a room at the back of the shop.

Half an hour later the door through which she had emerged was opened, and an old woman shriveled to the bone entered the shop.

"Permit me, monsieur," said the count, "to present my sister. She has been every day made up to look like a wax figure from a portrait of herself painted forty years ago."

Dyson stared at the frightful apparition for a few moments, then turned and left the shop. The next morning he drew on Denver for $10,000 and paid the forfeit. He followed his draft immediately, having seen all he wanted of New York.

CLEANING HINTS.

White enameled furniture can be cleaned by dissolving one tablespoonful of baking soda in one pint of warm water. Saturate a soft cloth and wash the furniture.

An easy way to clean greasy dishes and saucepans is to wipe out the dishes or saucepans with a piece of soft paper before washing them. Saucepans should be placed on the fire for a minute or two before being wiped out.

To whiten the kitchen table after scrubbing with soap and water in the usual way rub with salt sprinkled on a clean, dry cloth. Rub in the direction of the grain of the wood and leave to dry. The result will be a beautifully white table.

A very good plan to clean knives without putting the handles in water is as follows: Have handy a jug or vessel with soda water, and as soon as possible after the knives have been used stick the blades in soda water, leaving the handles on the outside. This will cleanse and quickly remove stain and rust.

Stove Polish Ribbon.

This ribbon is the newest trimming featured for millinery purposes, says the Dry Goods Economist. It is a black waxed satin, the correct name of which is toile cire, but it is popularly called in this market stove polish ribbon. Some firms have adopted terms for this ribbon suggesting its suitability for auto hat trimmings, since it is supposed to be waterproof. At present, however, it is having its greatest vogue for the decoration of the modish all black street hat.

The Hats of the Hour.

Hats for spring are extremely small and of the blocked straws, hemp and tagal straws. They have smart lines to distinguish them and are beautiful in color.

The yellow, taupe, brown and amber shades lead in millinery as in dress materials.

Fancy pompons, malines novelties and flower fancies are used with some tailored trimmings in bird plumage or ostrich.

Black taffeta and moire turbans are the leading hats, and some even are made of rows of narrow moire ribbon, used in row upon row around the crown.

Velvet and silk crowns are also smart, and novelty crapes or soft silks are introduced in some cases to match the dress with which the hat will be worn. Soft hats without stiffened foundations continue to find favor. High crowns are of momentary fashion interest.

Making the Purse Secure.

Procure a brass ring to fit the second finger of your left hand. With some silk double crochet well round it; then from the ring work four rows of chain each measuring three inches long. Secure the ends of these to the purse, sewing them firmly. When shopping slip the ring over your finger, and you need then have no fear of losing your purse.

Good Glass Cement.

It is not generally known that common alum melted in an iron spoon over hot coals forms an exceedingly strong cement for joining glass, china, metal or breakages of any kind. Articles mended with this cement may be washed without fear of coming apart again.

The Primrose.

The primrose is the flower for February. It grows in temperate countries and is one of the earliest spring flowers. It is often found before the snow is all melted.

It is a fragrant and dainty plant, most of the flowers being yellow, but sometimes red or purple primroses are found. The stalks are short and grow in a sort of fanlike cluster at the top of a leafless stem. The leaves of this plant grow from the root and are long and of a dark green color. There are many varieties of this plant.

"Yes, sir," answered John. "Pa said it was marching through Georgia."

* *

The Salt of the Ocean.

The origin of the salt in the sea is usually attributed to the constant washing of salts from the land by rain and rivers and the gradual depositing of them in the sea through evaporation. In every 100 parts of sea water there are about two and a half parts of salt. It has been computed that there are 4,500,000 cubic miles of rock salt in the oceans, fourteen and a half times the bulk of the continent of Europe above high water mark. The Atlantic is much saltier than the other oceans.

ORIGIN OF NURSERY RIMES.

"Three Blind Mice" was a music book of 1609.

"Little Jack Horner" is older than the seventeenth century.

"Cinderella," "Jack the Giant Killer," "Bluebeard" and "Tom Thumb" were given to the world in Paris in 1697. They were written by Charles Perrault.

"Humpty Dumpty" was a bad, bold baron who lived in the day of King John and tumbled from power. His story was put up into a riddle the meaning of which is an egg.

"The Babes In the Wood" was based on a crime committed in the fifteenth century. An old house in Norfolk, England, is pointed out, upon a mantlepiece of which is carved the whole story.

Size of the Orang Outang.

The north Borneo orang outang would seem to be a good deal bigger than the Sarawak one, of which Wallace says that of a good many shot by him the largest stood four feet two inches only. Hornaday's largest was four feet four inches. In north Borneo the smallest fullgrown male measured four feet four inches, and four feet nine inches seems to be a common size. A Mr. Adams shot one in the Suanlamba said to be four feet eight inches, and the one Mr. Dunlop shot near the club stood as much as four feet ten inches, the largest on record. Mr. Alber shot one on the Kinabatangan which measured from tip to tip of its fingers eighty-six inches across its outspread arms.—North Borneo Herald.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

COTTON MARKET LESS ACTIVE

Yesterday's session the Dullest Since the Beginning of the Recent Advance.

New York, June 8.—The cotton market was less active today than at any time since the beginning of the recent advance, but prices ruled generally steady, recovering an early loss and closing steady at a net advance of 3 to 7 points.

The failure of the weather map to show any renewal of wet weather in the western belt over Sunday and the indifferent ruling of Liverpool, probably accounted for considerable selling at the start. First prices were barely steady at a decline of 5 to 8 points and active months sold 9 to 11 points net lower shortly after the call under liquidatiog by some of Saturday's buyers and scatterinn pressure which was doubtless inspired by the western belt forecast for generally clair weather. It seemed, however, that the absence of any general rainfall in the Eastern belt had a tendency to offset improved weather conditions west of the river. At any rate comparatively little long cotton came out on the decline to a shade under the low levels reached on last week's reaction and the market soon steadied on covering by early sellers or a renewal of bull support.

Closing prices were within a point or two of the best. There appeared to be fewer Southern crop advices reaching the trade, but there were continued complaints of dry weather from the eastern belt.

Houses with foreign connections appeared to have very few orders here either way, while local commission and wire houses traded on both sides of the account. Noon weather advices indicating generally clear, hot weather east of the river seemed to inspire part of the buying on the afternoon advance.

Cotton futures closed steady.

Garcia's Method.

Mesdames Viardot-Garcia and Malibran, the wonderful daughters of Manuel Garcia, who was perhaps the greatest vocal teacher of all time, literally "learned in suffering what they taught in song."

The discipline of the Garcia home was extremely severe. According to Henry T. Finck, who writes in the Musician, it was said that he used to beat his unfortunate daughters till they screamed.

The neighbors, however, did not confuse methods with madness, and on such occasions they quaintly said, "It is only M. Garcia teaching his girls to sing."

LARGEST CROP OF WHEAT

Government Estimate Shows Many Thousands of Bushels More This Year Than Average.

Washington, June 8.—Nine hundred million bushels of wheat, almost half of the average world's production, and a new record for the United States is the prospective total yield of the farms of the country this year, the Department of Agriculture announced today in its June crop report.

The enormous crop will be 137,000,000 bushels more than ever was grown before in the United States in any one year. Excellent weather for the growing crop and an increase of 0.4 per cent. in the acreage planted to wheat are responsible.

There also will be large yields of oats and barley, probably second in size in the history of the nation.

Details of Winter wheat as of July 1st, by Southern States ,000's, omitted in production and acreage, follow:

State	Condition 1914	Ten year average.	Acre yield	Production
Virginia	88	89	12.1	9,400
North Carolina	89	88	10.3	6,300
Tennessee	96	86	12.3	8,600

"George," she said, "before we go any further I must insist that the word obey be dropped from the marriage service."

"Oh, pshaw!" he replied. "Why bother over that. It's a mere formality. Nobody expects it to be binding any more."

"That's all very well. But if we have it dropped the papers will give us a much more extended notice than they would otherwise."—Chicago Record-Herald.

His Bright Idea.

Not many years ago a well known dealer was visited by a would be seller who had in his hand an envelope containing seventeen signatures of Samuel Pepys, which, he said, he had just cut off the original letters to save trouble! By so doing he had diminished the value of his property by nearly £200.—London Opinion.

Her Way.

"She says she never borrows trouble." "No. That's a thing she prefers to give."—Judge.

COOD TONE IN STOCKS

But Markt Ploddd Along at a Slow Rate—Average Chance Was Trivial.

New York, June 9.—Favorable news from several sources today elicited only a small response from the stock market. After the first half hour the tone was good, but the market plodded along at a slow rate.

The average change was trivial.

The greatest activity came in the first hour. Indications of a possible rupture of mediation proceedings with Mexico caused traders to put out stocks and gave the market a heavy tone.

With news of the main government abandonment of the proposed blockade of Tampico, however, there came a recovery and prices were lifted fractionally over Saturday's close.

The Supreme court's decision in the Shreveport rate case failed to produce a ripple. The ruling was all that had been hoped for in the financial district.

The favorable crop report and the copper producers report showing an increase of 14,000,000 pounds in supplies both were without influence. Engagement of $5,000,000 gold for export also had no effect.

Bonds were steady. Total sales par value $2,036,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BRITTEN WOULD STOP BRYAN LECTURE TOURS

Introduces Drastic Bill in the Lower House.

Would Make Lecturing for Money by Federal Officials a Penal Offense. Includes All Parties in His Attack.

Washington, June 8.—Secretary Bryan's lecture tours cropped out in the House again today when Representative Britten, of Illinois, Republican, introduced a bill to make a penal offense for any Cabinet officer, head or clerk of a government department to lecture for pay, other than actual hotel and traveling expenses, and to prohibit Senators or Representatives from lecturing for pay while Congress is in session. Offenders would be fined $10,000 or imprisoned for two years or suffer both penalties.

Mr. Britten launched a broadside in a statement accompanying his bill, in which he spared no political party and included Senator LaFollette and Representative Murdock. He said:

"This bill was prepared last September, but was not introduced when Secretary Bryan formally declared that he would lecture no more during the period. The recent announcement from Philadelphia that several members of Congress and the distinguished Secretary of State had signed contracts for a period of lectures beginning July 1st, is responsible for my bill.

"I am at a loss to understand how the Secretary can consistently leave his office when a state of war practically exists between this country and Mexico and the foreign policy of our government is being laughed at by every civilized nation on earth. This certainly is no time for Mr. Bryan to be hiking around the country doing one night stands with tyrolean yoadlers, contortionists and sleight-of-hand artists, and I am equally opposed to members of Congress doing this sort of thing when Congress is in session.

"The Philadelphia announcement declared that Secretary Bryan, Senator LaFollette and Congressman Murdock had signed contracts for lectures beginning July 1st. Speaker Clark last year cancelled contracts at a loss to him of $10,000 on account of his aversion to being away from Congress. I propose to ask the House Judiciary committee for a hearing with a view to some action along this line."

Secretary Bryan announced some time ago that all his lecture engagements for the coming summer were contingent upon the state of foreign affairs and whether he could be absent from Washington.

HUERTA'S ORDER ONLY TEMPARARY

ply to such proposals had been made.

Gunboats at Tampico.

The Mexican gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza followed from Puerto Mexico by the American cruiser Tacoma and gunboat Sacramento, reached Tampico early today. The Mexican boats anchored in the Panuco river, some distance from Tampico and Rear Admiral Mayo conferred with their commanders. It was believed the order suspending the blockade had not reached Tampico when the conference was held.

Navy Department heads assumed that Admiral Mayo discussed with the Mexican officers the extent of their authority and nature of their orders and that he might have endeavored to dissuade them from interference with commerce at Tampico.

Secretary Daniels would not discuss the future course of the steamer Antilla. Department heads still maintained, however, that there had been no order to Admiral Badger since that of May 18th, directing that Tampico be kept open to commerce. Secretary Daniels frankly stated that the navy claimed no credit for the diplomatic maneuvers which resulted in the blockade suspension.

Some department officials tonight argued that although the Antilla flies the Cuban flag, her American owners still were amenable to American customs and shipping laws and that there was every reason to believe the company would be prepared to give respectful consideration to hints from the State Department that it would prefer not to land ammunition from the shores of the United States at Tampico.

At the State Department it was pointed out that the record thus far would show that the administration had been acting with exact neutrality as between the Federals and Constitutionalists.

The general belief here is that the mediation outlook is more hopeful in view of Huerta's present attitude and there are many who believe Gen. Carranza's answer to the recent note of the South American mediation envoys will pave the way for reception of his delegates at the peace conference. Carranza's representatives here expect to hear from him tomorrow. Some of Carranza's friends here still insist there will be no agreement to a cessation of hostilities in the Mexican internal conflict.

Conditions on the west coast of Mexico, already bad for Huerta, are becoming worse daily, according to Rear Admiral Howard's report. Not only is there heavy fighting at Santiago and San Anita, Lower California, but Mazatlan is nearly starved out and internal troubles are imminent.

Admiral Howard has sent the Annapolis to Santa Rosalia, Lower California, to complete a chain of wireless communication in view of the uncertainty of the cables. He reports Thomas Fernandez, presumably an American, imprisoned at Tepic.

MUST PAY IN CASH.

Supreme Court Upholds Virginia State Law on Wages in Mine Field.

Washington, June 8.—The Supreme Court today upheld the Virginia statute requiring companies mining coal, or manufacturing iron or steel to pay their employes at least monthly in money and making it unlawful to issue scrip unless redeemable in money at its face value.

The law was attacked by the Keokee Consolidated Coke Company, in Lee county, Virginia, when sued by W. W. Taylor Sons & Witt, into whose hands the scrip of the coke company had come for its face value.

COMPLETE PLAN IS GIVEN MEDIATORS

stopped for a week or a short period without making troops restless and endangering the control which the various chiefs have now over their men.

The mediators now are trying to evolve a method by which the peace plan will meet the approval of the Constitutionalists before a protocol is signed.

While the details are necessarily withheld until there is a final agreement, it is known that a large share in the new provisional government will be given to the Constitutionalists.

If they accept its principles little would remain for the mediation conference. The answer from Gen. Carranza to the latest communication to the mediators is expected in another 48 hours and will have a considerable bearing on the attitude of the American government toward the peace plan.

The Mexican delegation tonight made public extracts from their note from the mediators which brought about the request to the American government for a declaration of its interpretation of the armistice and its relation to the Antilla shipment of arms. The extract follows:

"According to news published in the press, an hour after the Antilla had been cleared without difficulty by the fiscal authorities of New York, said authorities received the general order issued by the Washington government forbidding the shipment of arms to Mexican ports. This order shows that it is the intention of said government to show no preference for either of the combatants in Mexico and it is natural to suppose that, in the same spirit, it was to consider it opportune to give the necessary orders to the American navy forces to prevent the unloading of the war material in Tampico unless it is thought preferable that the Mexican gunboats detain the vessel and seize the contraband of war.

"In this last case the American government must not consider the act as hostile to the American nation, as the Mexican delegation places on record its government's most earnest desire to avoid any incident which may disturb the peace negotiations."

Will Publish Correspondence.

The mediators announced tonight they will make public tomorrow all the correspondence that has passed between them and General Carranza or his agents. No explanation was made of the decision to give out the several notes beyond the brief statement that the mediators believe the time has come to give the public the information they contain.

It is understood that the mediators feel that they have allowed enough time to Gen Carranza to reply to the note which they despatched last Tuesday to Rafael Zubaran, Constitutionalist representative in Washington.

They are said to be of the opinion that a week was sufficient time for an answer.

With the making public of the correspondence as passed between the mediators and Gen. Carranza, including part of that from Washington before the opening of the conference, it is declared that the South American diplomats personally are inclined to look on their efforts to have the Constitutionalists send delegates as at an end.

They will consider the incident closed unless Carranza in his answer should agree to an armistice.

Boats Back to Puerto Mexico.

Washington, June 8.—Rear Admiral Badger cabled the Navy Department late tonight that the Mexican Federal gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza left Tampico for Puerta Mexico at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Orders from Foreign Minister Ruiz, at Mexico City, transmitted from Vera Cruz to Tampico by the wireless instruments of American warships, gave the Mexican commanders their first news of the suspension of the blockade and directed them to return to Puerto Mexico.

The departure of the gunboats was accepted here as meaning that the suspension of the blockade would be permanent.

If Admiral Badger reported details of conference between Admiral Mayo and the Mexican officers upon the arrival of the gunboats at Tampico, the Navy Department did not make them public.

Huerta's Resignation Expected.

Vera Cruz, June 8.—The suspension of the proposed blockade of Tampico revived reports here of Huerta's early resignation—"possibly before Wednesday night." Vera Cruz afternoon papers make a considerable display of the news of Huerta's withdrawal.

A story is current in the capital that President Huerta's resignation has been prepared and deposited in the British legation.

Convinced that President Huerta may yet escape them, his opponents have circulated in the capital a handbill calling upon the people to prevent his flight from the city. The handbill recites his alleged crimes and declares that justice can be served only by his execution.

The fleet which was to have left port today for five days target practice, remained at its anchorage.

SECOND TRIAL OF THE McARTHUR CASE BEGINS

Will Consume All Week in Raleigh Federal Court.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 8.—In the Federal Court this morning Judge H. G. Connor, presiding, the second trial of the noted case of Citizens' Bank of Norfolk vs. Adam McArthur, et al., was begun with indications that all the week and possibly longer would be required to finish the hearing. The first hearing, two months ago, resulted in a mistrial, the jury standing 11 for the plaintiff and 1 for the defendants.

The jury was empaneled this morning and the pleadings presented, the presentation of the evidence for the plaintiff being taken up at the afternoon session. There are a great number of witnesses to be examined, including many experts on handwriting for both the plaintiff and defendants, one set insisting that the McArthur signatures to the notes are genuine and the other set declaring with equal insistence that they are forgeries.

AUTO CATCHES FIRE AND BURNS UP ON ROAD.

Mr. William Middleton Forced to Jump to Escape Flames.

Warsaw, N. C., June 8.—News has just been received here that while Mr. William Middleton was en route from this town to his home near Kenansville, and while several miles from here on Friday afternoon his automobile caught on fire, and was completely destroyed. A number of matches were stored in the rear part of the machine, these became ignited and before the blaze was noticed the fire had gained such headway that the occupant was forced to jump and could make no effort to save the machine lowing suffragists to starve themselves to death while in prison.

The Evening Standard today interviewed a number of prominent people, including clergymen, on the subject and all of the latter who are quoted by the newspaper express themselves in favor of the proposal.

Guardians of ancient structures in all parts of the country have adopted stringent precautions to protect the buildings against attacks by women.

The men, armed with rifles and accompanied by bull dogs, have been placed on guard at the priory at Christ church, Hampshire, which dates from the twelfth century. This plan is being adopted at other places.

DEATH OF MRS. WARROCK.

Passed Away at Home Here This Morning After Long Illness.

Many friends in the city and elsewhere will be deeply grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Georgia A. Warrock, which occurred at her home, No. 307 South Second street, this morning at 1:30 o'clock after an illness of three years. For the last several days her life had been despaired of and it was known that the end was near. Nevertheless, the death came as a severe shock to loved ones and her many intimate friends.

She was the widow of the late W. S. Warrock, of this city, and had lived in this city for a half century. She was in her 70th year. She was a faithful and devoted member of the First Presbyterian church, and a Christian woman of many virtues.

Surviving her are two sisters, Mrs. Virginia F. Warrock and Miss Augusta M. Harris, both of this city, and two brothers, Messrs. R. L. Harris, of Monroe, N. C., and W. G. Harris, of Birmingham, Ala. They will have the tender sympathy of many friends.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

MONEY SAVED HIS LIFE,

Conductor Rackley Had Narrow Escape Last Night.

A sack of nickels and silver money probably saved the life of Conductor I. B. Rackley last night when he was shot by a Greek on a trolley car which he was running on Castle street between Fifth and Sixth streets. The man was a passenger on the car and started to go out when Mr. Rackley says he drew his pistol and shot at him. The bullet literally knocked a nickel into smithereens which was in the sack of money in his hip pocket, glazed and inflicted a slight flesh wound in the wounded man's right thigh.

Aside from being a little painful he suffered no serious injury and was able to continue his duties as conductor. The man who fired the bullet either accidentally or intentionally, ran as fast as he could afterwards and had not been apprehended early this morning. The police are working on the matter.

AGED WOMAN FOUND DEAD.

Mrs. Polly Edwards, Agd Ninety-six, Passes at Her Home.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 8.—Mrs. Pollie Edwards, aged 96 years, was found dead in her bed at the home of her granddaughter near Nashville. Mrs. Edwards, while missing being a centenarian but by four years, was in apparent perfect health, and recently walked a mile with friends and expressed herself as not tiring. Feeding the chickens at home Saturday night, she was called in to supper and enjoyed a hearty meal and retired in apparent perfect health to be found dead in bed next morning by relatives who went to arouse her.

The deceased is survived by more than 250 children, grand children and great grand children, the majority of whom live in this section of the State, and more than two score in this city.
